FIREMEN FIGHT AT SHORT RANGE

Flames Drive Employees to Street and Spread Rapidly to Roof

Fire Wall Saves West Side of Building, But Loss to Stock Heavy

Inc calculable damage which, it is believed, will approximate $50,000, resulted from a spectacular two-alarm fire in the store of Cherry & Webb in John street, this noon. Hundreds of women's suits and other female apparel were ruined by fire, smoke and water, and for a time it seemed that the flames might be successful in their efforts to curl along the roof of the building and work into the Five Cent Savings bank building next door.

With the store manager, Walter H. Emmott, at the national convention of Rotary clubs in Atlantic City, no other company official was able to estimate the loss with any degree of accuracy, but that it will mount high into the thousands was evident to firemen and spectators.

The fire seemed to have its start in a partition on the third floor between a room given over to children's wear and the alteration room. The flames broke out with such suddenness that employees were forced to dash for lower floors and the street. The alarm from box 217, John and Paige streets, was pulled at 12 o'clock by Charles Gallagher of The Sun's editorial staff.

The heat from the flames was tremendous several minutes before the first apparatus arrived. Chemical lines attempted to hold them in check until hydrant water was obtained, but with such quantities of inflammable material on every hand, the fire had a start that was not easy to overcome. A fire wall extending the depth of the building in the center penned the flames into a comparatively small space, but shut in on one side, they quickly worked up into an attic on the Lee street side and broke through the roof. Two boys had been in this top floor room making boxes just prior to the fire, but, contrary to reports, had returned to the ground floor before it was discovered.

Ordered Second Alarm

Chief Saunders had not been at the fire more than five minutes when he ordered a second alarm and also sent one motor piece back to the Central station in Palmer street for the water tower. Although the tower stood in John street throughout the fire, it was not found necessary to use it.

The firemen were forced to stand a terrific grilling from smoke and flames as they hung from ladder rungs and fire escapes, fighting at close range. No long range work was possible and once or twice companies were forced back from the smoke pall to get a reviving breath of fresh air.

Tons of water fell into the building from three sides and gradually soaked its way through lower floors and rolled out into John street in cataclysmic streams. The water pressure at the hydrants was uniformly good and although pumping engines were ready to work the chief did not find it necessary to call upon them.

Fire Attracts Crowd

Occurring at the noon hour, the fire attracted thousands of spectators and fire lines, held by a quenching effect upon the flames, great rolls of black smoke drifted from the windows and could be seen from almost any point in the city. This gave appearance of a fire of much greater magnitude than really was the case, although in its restricted area it burned with unusual fierceness and damaging effect.

As far as could be learned, the building, which is jointly owned by the Cherry and Webb Co. and the Parker estate, was covered by insurance, as well as the stock. T. C. Lee and Co. has the insurance.

BOMBS HURLED AT POLICE AUTO

Asst. Director of Royal Irish Constabulary and Assistants Attacked

Two Wounded—Firing Resumed at Londonderry—More Troops Called

DUBLIN, June 22.—An automobile carrying the assistant director-general of the Royal Irish Constabulary and four constables, was attacked with revolver fire and bombs when en route from the Amiens street station to Dublin Castle today. Assistant Director General Roberts was severely wounded in the head by a revolver bullet, but is expected to live and the driver of the car was shot in both legs. No arrests have been made.

The motor was met with a fusillade of bullets when passing under a railway bridge, but the badly wounded constable driver continued at the wheel while an uninjured companion returned the fire. After the shooting had gone on for some time the assailants threw bombs. Nothing is known as to the casualties among those who made the attack.

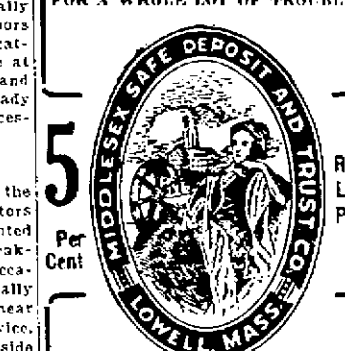

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, June 22.—Firing was resumed in several parts of the city early today after a comparatively quiet night. Several persons were killed in the rioting here yesterday and scores were more or less seriously injured. Military forces patrolled the streets during the night, and today were guarding the danger points in the center of the city. Additional troops are being sent here from Belfast.

There were no deliveries of food or bread in Londonderry this morning.

BODY OF MAN TAKEN FROM RIVER

The body of a man was found floating in the Merrimack river, near the wharf of the Lowell Motor Boat club this morning, shortly after 9 o'clock. The body was found by Capt. Prouty of the club, who immediately notified the police. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith was in turn notified and he ordered the body removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Saunders in Appleton street. At the time of going to press the body had not been identified.

NEW RAILROAD STRIKE SPREADS

Breaks Out in New Jersey—Also Appears at Syracuse, N. Y. and New Haven

R. R. Managers Confident Movement Will Not Affect New York City

NEW YORK, June 22.—Although the new railroad strike has suddenly spread to southern New Jersey and has appeared at Syracuse and New Haven, Conn., the majority of railroad managers declared today that they did not believe the movement would affect New York City to any great extent.

Edward J. Armstrong, chairman of the Eastern Railway Men's association, disagreed with the general view, however, predicting that the strike eventually would reach this city and environs. He said a meeting of the association would be held tomorrow.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

Commencement Season Got Underway Today in Local Grammar Schools

The local public school commencement season got under way today with four grammar schools holding their graduation exercises either this morning or afternoon and two more scheduled for this evening. Tomorrow the other grammar schools will send forth their graduates and the high school class of 1920 will be graduated in the evening at Keith's theatre, this latter affair bringing the season to a close.

At 9 o'clock this morning the Edison and Colburn schools presented graduation programs before large audiences of friends and relatives of the graduates. The Pawtucket and Varnum school exercises were held this afternoon while the Green and Greenhalge commencement programs will be carried out this evening.

Tomorrow morning the Butler and Morley schools will graduate large classes and in the afternoon the Lincoln, Moody, Riverside and Washington school exercises will be held. The exercises this year are up to the usual high standard of excellence.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DINNER TONIGHT

An exhaustive report of the activities of the organization since its expansion and an address by Dr. George Dugan of New Jersey, will be the high lights of the chamber of commerce dinner to be held tonight, in Memorial hall, at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting also will afford members the opportunity to discuss future activities in forum form.

President W. N. Goodell will preside and the report of work will be read by Secretary-Manager George F. Wells. Many of the members also will have their first opportunity of meeting Mr. Wells since he came to Lowell.

Those who took part in the reorganization campaign of the chamber last January, remember Dr. Dugan as one of the splendid speakers brought to the city by the American City bureau and will relish the opportunity of hearing him once again. Reservations for the dinner are not taken up to capacity, although a large crowd is expected.

Music in charge of Andrew McCarthy will be a feature. He will be assisted by William Heller as pianist.

HOT TIME AT TOWN MEETING

Charges of "Steam-Roller" and "Gag-rule" Methods Made by Voters

That Non-Voters Participated in Meeting Was Also Alleged

The proposition to legalize Sunday sports, particularly baseball, was defeated by a vote of 125 to 147 at a special meeting of the town of Billerica last evening at which charges were freely made from the floor that steam roller and "gag rule" methods were being employed by the moderator. "No" ballots had been forced into the hands of intending "yes" voters. It was also openly alleged on the floor that social ostracism might be employed against citizens who voted in favor of the measure, that non-voters were taking part in the meeting, and that the town is now a field in which gambling is carried on and noisy parties of hilarious young men and women disturb the Sunday quiet with their noise.

Altogether it was one of the liveliest town meetings that the old town has known in years. Even the big

GYPSIES ORDERED TO LEAVE LOWELL

Under a threat of being arrested for larceny, the band of gypsies which has been located on Middlesex street for several weeks past, must leave the city either on or before tomorrow. The police have kept close watch on the members of the groups, who claim to be Cherokee Indians, and on Saturday night, Officers Conney and Moore, assisted by the policewomen, succeeded in getting evidence of larceny against them.

Officer Conney has visited the "humps" several times to have his "humps" read, but the gypsies did not wish to make any definite charge for that service, stating that he could give as much as he liked.

Officer Conney sought the aid of the policewomen, who proposed that they visit the gypsies Saturday night. Two of the policewomen went in to have their fortunes told and were charged $1. Officers Moore and Conney then went in and charged the gypsies with larceny of that amount and found the dollar bill, the number of which they had marked, still in the fortuneteller's possession.

The intention of the band was to remain here all summer, but upon being charged with larceny they promised to get out of the city if given a chance.

NEW DRIVE ON RADICALISM

Armed With Broader Powers Federal Officers Launch New Campaign

"The Theoretical Red" and "the Parlor Bolshevik" to be Run Down

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Armed with broadened powers provided in the recently enacted Allen Exclusion act, department of justice officials today announced a new drive against radicalism. Orders have been issued officials say, for a strict watch on the activities of those who preach radical doctrines or assist in spreading such theories while they themselves refrain from actual anarchistic activities. "The Theoretical Red" and "The Parlor Bolshevik" were the two principal objects of the campaign. The provisions of the new act have greatly widened the scope of the department's power to rid the country of aliens who start uprisings with guarded revolutionary doctrines.

Advocacy either of sabotage or opposition to all organized government by aliens is sufficient to bring them within the new law, according to the department's legal experts. Sabotage in this instance is considered to mean "opposition to the administration of the government" and aliens who publish writings advising against organized government—even though the United States is excepted—are liable to deportation, it was said.

The financial resources of radical associations are being carefully scrutinized, and it was thought that the income of many will be cut off by the new law which provides against the giving or loaning of money to anarchistic organizations. Purchase of "Red bonds" will come within this category, it was believed.

BOY MAY HAVE MET DEATH IN CANAL

It was reported to the police at 11 o'clock last night, that Omoros Antroustopoulos, aged 8 years, of 13 Tremont street, this city, was missing from home since 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon. At the time of leaving his home, the lad was dressed in blue overalls, brown shoes and black straw hat. Someone has told the father that he saw the child in Market street about 5 o'clock, last evening.

The employees of the Mohair Plush company reported to the police, late yesterday afternoon, that some of their number had seen a boy in the canal in the vicinity of Western avenue, struggling in the current and attempting to reach some of the lumber of Davis and Sargent's yard to save himself. Having failed to grab the plank, the boy sunk from sight and was seen no more.

Whether this could have been the eight year old boy the police have not been able to learn. The police cannot attempt to drag for the body in the canal for the current is too strong. The water in the canals will not be drawn off till Saturday.

GOV. MILLIKEN IS DEFEATED

Col. F. H. Parkhurst Nominated for Governor by Maine Republicans

Big Lead With Only Few Precincts Missing—Milliken Running Third

PORTLAND, Maine, June 22.—Colonel Frederic H. Parkhurst of Bangor was nominated for governor by the republicans in a four-cornered contest at the primaries yesterday. With 122 precincts missing out of 633 in the state, the returns gave him a lead of 1,717 votes over John P. Deering of Saco. Governor Carl F. Milliken, seeking re-nomination for a third term of two years, was running third, 3,205 behind Deering. Louis A. Jack received only a scattering vote. The vote in 511 precincts representing 398 of the 320 cities and towns in the state was: Deering 16,035; Jack, 2,003; Milliken 12,850; Parkhurst 17,782.

DR. MURRAY APOLOGIZES

Col. Procter, Manager for Gen. Wood, Receives Telegram of Apology

CINCINNATI, O., June 22.—Colonel William Cooper Procter made public today a telegram of apology he received from Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, sent in answer to Procter's demand to know whether or not Dr. Butler had been accurately quoted in a published interview in which he was purported to have declared that gamblers and stock players were General Wood's principal backers in his campaign for the republican presidential nomination.

"Answering your telegram, June 15, I am convinced that my words, spoken under the strain, turmoil and fatigue of the Chicago convention and in sharp revolt against the power of money in politics were both unbecomingly and unwarranted and that I should and do apologize to each and every one who felt hurt by what I said."

MORMON HEAD IS ACCUSED

SALT LAKE CITY, June 22.—Warrants based upon complaints issued at Pocatello, Idaho, recently charging Heber J. Grant, president, and six other officials of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company with profiteering in sugar were received here yesterday by United States District Attorney I. B. Evans.

It is expected the defendants will appear voluntarily either before the United States court here or before United States Commissioner Tanner at Pocatello.

The Idaho charge declared the company sold at $23 per hundred sack sugar which cost but $9.50 to produce.

Those named in the suit besides Mr. Grant, who also is president of the Mormon church, are C. W. Nibley, H. G. Whitney, W. T. Pyper and S. T. Love, all residents of Salt Lake.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY EARTHQUAKE

Survey Shows Inglewood, Ten Miles From Los Angeles, Suffered Severely

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 22.—A survey early today of the damage done by an earthquake last night indicated that Inglewood, ten miles southwest of here, suffered much more severely than was at first reported.

Twenty-one business buildings in the town were practically destroyed, the town was deprived of light and gas, and scores of dwellings were seriously damaged.

Many plate glass windows in Los Angeles were shattered by the shock, several buildings were otherwise damaged and persons were struck by bricks shaken by chimneys. San Pedro, Long Beach, Santa Monica and Venice also reported minor damage.

Woman Dies of Shock
The death of Mrs. William Shippey of Los Angeles, at Venice, a beach resort, was attributed to the earthquake. She jumped from an automobile following the tremor and fell dead from heart disease.

The earthquake area was confined to Los Angeles county, Inglewood bearing the brunt of its severity.

Church Steeple Topped Over
The shock which caused the damage was followed by two slighter tremors.

Commencement Exercises—Demonstration in Cooking, Dressmaking and Nursing

A practical demonstration in cooking, dressmaking and home nursing, given by ten young women members of the graduating class, was a feature of the commencement exercises of the department of household arts of the Lowell Vocational school this morning in the Merrill school. As part of the demonstration of what they have learned at the school, the young women all wore handsome white graduation gowns that they had made themselves.

The exercises began with the march "Old Glory," played by Emil Borjes orchestra, to the notes of which the graduating class marched into the room.

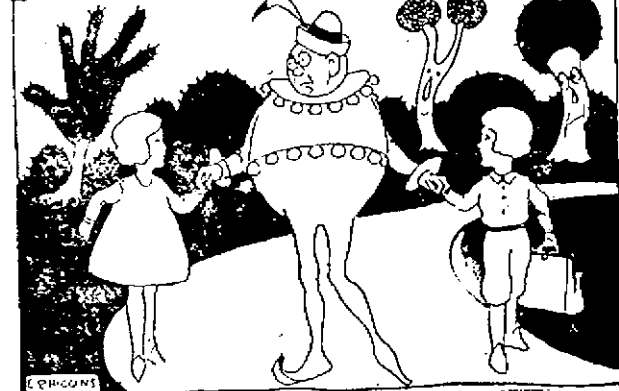

In opening, a demonstration of the proper way to prepare a luncheon for six persons was given. Four young women donned long white aprons and took their places behind a table on which were articles of food and cooking utensils. One of the class explained that each senior was expected to prepare, previous to graduation, a books, had discovered that Marty owed him for three months' rent.

"If he doesn't pay me today," declared the fairy landlord, "I'll have to put him out of his house. I hate to do it, but he is considered to be very well off, and he should pay his debts. They say the fur coat he's wearing—just around for every day, too—is worth a whole pocketful of money. And he doesn't even wear overalls to keep it from wrinkling out. Besides, being in the water so much, I should think he'd ruin it. And when he shines up trees, my wife says he's sure to scrape off about ninety-nine cents worth of fur each time. Yes—" and Tingaling wagged his head and shook his bells with disapproval, "he's got to pay me, but my middle name is Smarty and he can't put anything over on me."

That's all! His name may be Marty, but he has visions of green lawns and flower beds and clear marble-lined pools outside, and of plush carpets, and golden chairs, and feasts and rejoicing and visions of loveliness within, and they were wondering if they should bump their heads on the ground three times when they were introduced, as they had done before the Fairy Queen in her palace. Nancy was even making up a speech in her mind to say to him. She thought she would speak thus:

"Oh, great and glorious Mr. Marty Mink, we are pleased to meet you. What can we do for you, oh Mr. Marty Mink? And will you please tell us how much your coat cost?"

She had forgotten all about the rent, so had Nick, but Tingaling hadn't—not for one minute.

NEW HIGH RECORD

Family Food Budget up 3 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The food budget of the average American family attained a new high record in May, the department of labor announced yesterday, the cost of 22 articles of food used in making up the retail food index having increased 3 per cent over the total cost over April, and 7 per cent, and potatoes largely account for the group increase, the Monthly Review says.

"Since food forms more than 33 per cent of the total budget of the workingman's family," the statement continues, "the cost of living can scarcely be expected to decline noticeably so long as food prices continue to advance."

In comparison with the April figures, today's review shows sugar has advanced 26 per cent, corn meal 14 per cent, flour 7 per cent, and potatoes, 5 per cent.

During the year period from May, 1919 to May 1920, the greatest increase—22 per cent—was shown in Springfield, Ill. The next largest increase, or 21 per cent, was in Butte and Chicago.

In Dallas and Fall River, the increase was 16 per cent; in Manchester, N. H., New Haven, New York and Providence, 15 per cent; in Boston, Bridgeport and Philadelphia, 14 per cent; in Buffalo, Columbus, Louisville, Memphis, Newark, Pittsburgh and Portland, Me., 13 per cent, and in Denver, 12 per cent.

Wholesale prices also advanced during May, the department's review shows, "the index" in this case being 2 1/2 per cent, over that of April.

NEURALGIC PAINS

Shooting pains in the head with giddiness, noise in the ears and tenderness of the scalp—pains in the neck and shoulders or extending down the arms to the hands, these are the most common symptoms of neuralgia. There are a number of causes of neuralgia. It is most common in families whose members have nervous dispositions and it is very often a result of anemia or lack of blood. Hot applications give temporary relief in neuralgia and should be used. They cannot end the trouble because the pain is the complaint that the under nourished nerve is making and it will not be quieted until the nerve is fed. The only way to reach the nerves with nourishment is through the blood. That is the way thin blood, so frequently leads to neuralgia. When the blood becomes thin the nerves lack nourishment. Build up the blood, supply it to the elements that the nerves need and you begin to correct the neuralgia.

The free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," will interest you. Write for it today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price 60 cents per box.

Vitalitas Prolongs Life

No medicine made by the hand of man equals this wonderful product of nature—Vitalitas—in stimulating nerve and vital force in the human system. With the aged its effects are marvelous and for the young and middle-aged it is without an equal in building up the blood and system generally. You can quickly banish Rheumatism, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, Liver, Kidney, and Stomach Ills by the use of Vitalitas. If you have tried other remedies without result don't give up until you try Vitalitas; it is effective where all else fails. Get a bottle today from your druggist.—Adv.

BAY STATE CARMEN WAGE HEARING DELAYED

BOSTON, June 22.—The hearing on the Bay State Street railway wage controversy, scheduled to open at this state house today, has been postponed until June 28, because of the absence of James H. Vahey, member of the Carmen's union of the Bay State street railway arbitration board. Attorney Vahey wired from Scranton, Pa., yesterday asking for a continuance of the case until next Monday. He has been on arbitration boards in New York and Pennsylvania for several weeks. Other arbitrators in the Bay State case are P. G. Carleton, representing the company, and Hugh W. Ogden, representing the public.

DISCONTINUE SURVEY AND CENSUS HERE

It is announced that due to the necessity for retrenchment the religious survey and census undertaken in this city under the direction of the Inter-Church World Movement has been discontinued for the present, at least. Rev. A. G. Warner, who was in charge of the local survey, has been transferred to work in Hampshire county with headquarters at Northampton.

Mr. Warner states that he is unable to give any facts as to the financial status of the survey. It is claimed, however, that outside of the denominations that completed their quotas, the results of the financial canvass have not been satisfactory.

COAL BOARD TO HOLD ALL HEARINGS AT SCRANTON

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Decision to conduct all hearings at Scranton, Pa., with the first set for next Thursday, was reached here yesterday by the commission appointed by President Wilson to arbitrate the differences between miners and operators in the anthracite field. William O. Thompson, president of Ohio state university, was elected chairman.

It was decided to conduct open sessions and opinions was expressed by the commissioners that it would not require more than 10 days to hear each side. On conclusions of the hearings the commission will come to Washington to formulate its awards. It was said.

"End Your Rheumatism

Like I Did Mine" Says Pastor Reed—Wife Also Rid of Neuritis

Suffered Tortures For Years—Now Telling Good News to Others

"Don't Believe That Old Humping About 'Uric Acid' Being the Cause of Rheumatism—It's Not So!"

Emphatically asserting that thousands of unfortunate sufferers have been led into taking wrong treatments under the old and false belief that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism, Pastor H. W. Reed says:

"As do some of our highest medical authorities, I now know that 'Uric Acid' never did and never will cause rheumatism! But it took me many years to find out this truth. I learned how to get rid of my rheumatism and recover my health and strength, through reading 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism,' a work written by an authority who has scientifically studied the cause and treatment of rheumatism for over twenty years. It was indeed a veritable revelation!

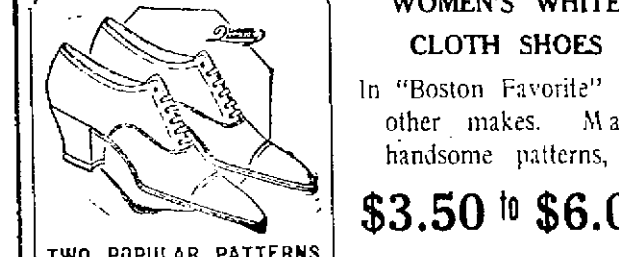

"I had suffered agony for years from rheumatism and associated disorders, and Mrs. Reed was tortured with the demon neuritis almost beyond endurance. We had read and talked so much about 'Uric Acid' that our minds seemed poisoned. But the 'Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' made it all clear to us and now we are both free from the suffering and misery we endured so many years. I believe I was the hardest man in the world to convert! For me to discard the old 'Uric Acid' theory, and what I now know to be absolutely false, for the new, scientific understanding of the causes and cure of rheumatism, was like asking me to change my religious beliefs! But I did change, and it was a fortunate day for me and mine when I did so."

NOTE: "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" referred to above by Pastor Reed lays bare facts about rheumatism and its associated disorders overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries. It is a work that should be in the hands of every man or woman who has the slightest symptoms of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago or gout. Anyone who sends name and address to H. P. Clearwater, 1312 A Street, Holliston, Maine, will receive it by mail, postage paid and absolutely free. Send now, lest you forget the address! If not a sufferer, cut out this explanation and hand it to some afflicted friend.—Adv.

Twink

Washes and dyes
at the same time

All these colors in lovelier shades than ever before

Flesh	Baby Blue	Light Green
Pink	Copenhagen	Dark Green
Coral	Turquoise	Light Gray
Peach	Navy Blue	Taupe
Old Rose	Yellow	Bisque
Bright Red	Lavender	Dark Brown
Dark Red	Purple	Black

For your faded blouses and underwear
Colors you have wanted and could not get before
—Just wash them in with these new colored flakes

A PRETTIER shade of blue for your sun-faded voile.

Just the perfect coral you have wanted for the costume blouse that has turned yellow from careless washing.

For blouses, for underwear, or the children's dresses, lovelier shades than you have ever been able to wash into a garment before.

You get these lovelier shades with Twink, the new colored flakes.

Twink is made by a wonderful new method for producing colors, that makes it possible to get more exquisite shades than have ever before been obtained.

When it was found that in this product any fashionable shade could be produced, the fashion color authorities of the country were asked to select the loveliest and smartest colors for this season. Twink was then made to match these colors.

The gay Twink flakes dissolve instantly in boiling or very hot water. You whip them into a bright lather and put in your yellowed crepe de chine blouse or your faded camisole. Swish it about in the rich suds for a few minutes, squeeze the suds gently through the fabric, then rinse in cold waters.

In a twinkling you have a charming cool green blouse in place of your yellowed one, a dainty flesh colored camisole that looks as if it had never been worn.

Clear, even color every time

The Twink colors turn out right every time. There is not a particle of solid soap to spot or streak the garment—not a bit of rubbing to wear the fabric.

You get clear, even color every time, and color so fast that you can wash your blouse or chemise several times before its next Twinking. Twink will not injure any fabric that water alone will not harm.

Get Twink today in the season's most popular colors, the ones you have been wanting. Just follow the surprisingly easy directions that come with the package. You can get Twink at your druggist's, the department stores and the 5 and 10 cent stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

What Twink is doing for other women

I have tried several Twink colors for renewing faded and discolored blouses—and have been surprised and pleased at the ease with which the wonderful results were obtained.

One blouse which I thought could not be worn again—I used Pink Twink and it gave it a beautiful shade—making it almost new again—for only 10 cents.

Miss Edna Philbrick,
Cambridge, Mass.

I was so delighted with your new dye product that I felt I must let you know of my success. I used Twink in Turquoise on a faded light blue georgette blouse. I followed the very simple directions and my blouse turned out a beautiful even color—many of my friends spoke of what a beautiful shade of Turquoise it was, and they could scarcely believe it when I told them it had been dyed.

ESCAPE OF BERGDOLL

Federal Grand Jury Ordered to Probe Deep and Spare
No One

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—With instructions from Judge J. Whitaker Thompson to "probe deep and spare no one," a special federal grand jury began an investigation yesterday to determine who was responsible for the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger, who eluded a military guard at his home here after he had gained temporary release from confinement at Governor's Island. Bergdoll was given his freedom to search for a large sum of gold he claimed to have buried in the mountains of Maryland. Nearly a score of witnesses have been subpoenaed and a dozen were heard yesterday. Among them were four military prisoners from Governor's Island, the two non-commissioned officers who were sent with Bergdoll as guards and two of his cell mates.

As outlined by Judge Thompson, the chief purpose of the grand jury is to determine whether a conspiracy existed to free Bergdoll. Should it be found that he made his escape because of a plot, the jurors were instructed to indict the conspirators, whether of high or low position in official or civilian life.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
RAISES $128,000

The First Baptist church has raised $128,000 of a quota of $178,000 allotted to it in a drive of the Baptist denomination, under the name of the New World movement, for $100,000,000. It is believed that considering the size of the church, its record is almost without an equal in the country. It is expected that the remainder of the quota will be raised during the summer. Already there have been 874 contributors to the fund.

A record has been kept of the progress of the drive on a cross seven feet tall. This cross is marked off into 1200 small squares, each square representing a possible giver. Whenever the name of a new contributor has been added to the list a cross has been marked in a square. One hundred red squares were reserved in the center of the cross for the fund workers.

Of the gifts received, only seven have been of sums over $1000. These have totalled $10,000. There have been many instances of unusual self-sacrifice brought to light in connection with the drive. One young woman, a worker in the mills, pledged herself to give $500 during a period of five years and ten other persons followed her example. A night watchman has pledged $550, and a young man, who said he wanted to "measure up to what was expected of him," contributed $600. A 10-year-old boy has pledged himself to earn and give ten cents a day for four years. A little girl recurred a pledge for $116 from her father.

RED PILLS

MRS. ERNEST CHARETTE

RED PILLS were my mother's favorite remedy, and she did not cease recommending them to me. I gave them a trial and they relieved me of general weakness, poor circulation, inward trouble and other minor ailments. I had started to work when very young, and although I was favored with a strong constitution, the strain was too much and I was unable to keep up my work. Now that I know how easy it is for me to keep strong and well by the use of RED PILLS, I am firmly resolved that I will continue taking them regularly, and not let myself become a victim of that terrible malady, which is Anæmia.

CHARLES W. MOREY
SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

The minstrelsy of the Glee club of the Charles W. Morey school held forth last evening at a banquet in the Colonial restaurant when 20 pupils of the higher grades and teachers joined in very pleasant festivities. As a guest of the club Dr. James Rooney of the school board was present. The social dining room of the restaurant had been reserved for the occasion. Miss Annie Donohoe was in charge of the singing in which Greta MacPherson, Doris Conley, Leona Plouffe and Charlotte Chase acted as soloists. Other numbers included violin and piano selections. Mrs. Helen Taylor was the accompanist.

THREATENED HIS BOSS

The police of this city and Boston are on the watch for James Nunzio, an employee of the Hugh Nawn Construction company who, it is alleged, has threatened to shoot his foreman, E. F. Fitzgerald now directing work in this city. When the man first made his threats Fitzgerald notified the police and they in turn sent word to the Boston department for Nunzio is said to be in that city at present.

Not Injured

Although he fell from the fifth story piazza at the home of his parents, 37 Elm street late yesterday afternoon, Edward Bruin, aged 10 years, is resting comfortably at St. John's hospital today. The little fellow was playing on the piazza of his home at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when in some unaccountable manner he fell to the ground. He was rushed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital, where he is now being kept under observation for fear internal injuries may develop.

AFTER SCHOOL WHAT?

School graduation brings to many parents the problem of finding suitable places for their boys and girls in the industrial environment. The graduates may be divided into two classes, those who leave the high or grammar schools to go to work and those who have the good fortune of going to higher institutions of learning.

Perhaps the latter do not appreciate the privileges they enjoy, and the former, it is safe to say, do not realize the opportunities they will have to let pass in the course of a lifetime, because their education ended in the common schools. Nevertheless, those who cannot have a college education may console themselves with the thought that it is not always essential to the highest success.

Some of the most successful men got along very well without the aid of a college course. But they educated themselves. It usually happens that by far the most important part of a young man's training is that which he masters himself by hard study. Unfortunately too many young men nowadays cease to study after leaving school whereas that is the time during which they should take up special courses to fit them for positions in which technical skill is necessary. Today there are vast facilities offered for such study. In this state the department of education offers college extension courses of great merit, sending professors to instruct classes of twenty or over. In addition, the department conducts correspondence courses which each individual can take up independently and carry on at his leisure. There are besides, many courses available at schools and colleges at a nominal expense so that nobody can reasonably complain of the lack of educational opportunities.

At first, it will be difficult for some graduates to discover for what line of work they are best adapted; but this is a problem that each and all must solve in the long run if they wish to make the best use of their talents and opportunities. In selecting an occupation, it is important to choose one in which there will be an opportunity of advancement and to avoid especially the blind alley or the cul de sac, as the French term a street or lane from which there is no passage forward. Where there is no prospect of advancement there can be no enthusiasm, without which life will become monotonous. The chief qualities that count for success are: education, ambition, industry, self-control, tact, courage, will power, character. Success will result from the proper application of these qualities and not otherwise. Nothing is more common than that men endowed with all the qualities essential to success, fail utterly for lack of tact or because of the misuse or non-use of the skill and powers they possess. Other things being equal, the youth who has specialized in some important branch of work will be most successful.

CALL FOR BUSINESS MEN

In a letter from three directors of the Massachusetts Roosevelt club, asking Charles Sumner Bird to become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, attention is called to the fact that this honor has gone to a business man not more than twice in 30 years.

It is a fact that we select a large proportion of our members of the legislature, congressmen and executives from a single class in the community—the lawyers. This is unfortunate.

THE IRISH CONFLICT

That the unionists of Londonderry, who are well armed and whose houses have not been searched for arms by the government, have shot down scores of nationalists or Sinn Féiners, will be pleasing news to the police and the government. All the present trouble had its origin prior to 1914, when the Ulster unionists imported arms from Germany to be ready to fight against home rule. The government took no steps to prevent the movement of arms from other parts of Ireland were failed for attempting to do what the men of the north did with the open connivance of the government. Not only did the government permit their arming for rebellion, but it appointed Mr. Carson, their leader, to the cabinet.

It is the old, old policy of the British government to keep the north and the south divided and then to say unless they agree they can never er have self-government. When in 1867 there was a rising of the Irish people they were told by government officials that if Ireland proved her loyalty, she could have anything she wanted. It was on the strength of that policy that Parnell and Redmond worked; but when the time came to make good the pledge, the government receded and the home rule act on the statute book of England, remains as proof of the perfidious betrayal of the nation by Asquith, Lloyd George and the present coalition ministry. This was on a par with the disregard of the treaty of Limerick, solemnly ratified by England and violated "ere the ink was dry."

England's cry today is, that until the Irish agree upon what they want, they cannot have any general home rule. What does that mean? Simply that the majority must yield to the minority which is opposed to home rule. It means that Ulster, armed and equipped with the permission of the government, is to have a veto power upon the rights of Ireland. It is a virtual establishment of minority rule and is upheld by Lloyd George and the host of reactionary Tories who support him. He shouts that Ulster cannot be coerced and the Tory remnant of a bygone age who still gloat over the battle of the Boyne, re-echoes his statement that Ulster will not be coerced, which means that one sixth of the Irish people is to hold a veto power over the rights of the remaining five-sixths. Yet in spite of this fact, Lloyd George, the greatest political mountebank and the most unprincipled politician who ever ruled England, says he is giving all classes in Ireland home rule.

The present partition measure as already stated, means that the majority is to submit to the Carsonites on the plea that if the majority had control it would be unfair to that faction. Yet for this assumption, there is not the slightest foundation. Not at any time within the last 250 years did the majority of the Irish people have an opportunity to show any unfairness to the loyalist minority. They did not have the power.

The present condition of Ireland cannot continue indefinitely; but the people, badly as they are persecuted, will not yield until justice is secured. Lloyd George says England will never allow Ireland to enjoy a republican form of government as it would be a peril to the empire. If he doesn't want a republican Ireland, why does he not treat Ireland same as Canada, Australia or South Africa? It is useless, however, to expect any fairness from a minister who panders to the worst remnant of British aristocracy in order to prolong his reign in power. He is maintained in office at the sacrifice of all principles of justice and is piling up future perils for the empire where he might lay the foundation of security and international amity.

Many, perhaps most, of the problems connected with running the government of a state are essentially business problems. They relate to a careful oversight over resources and expenditures and the direction and management of men.

That lawyers are more competent to frame laws than laymen may be conceded, but making laws is only a part of the business of conducting the affairs of a state government.

We have heard a great deal about a demand for a business administration on Beacon hill, but unless business men show considerably more inclination than they have in the past to seek public office, it is likely to be a long time before such an administration materializes.

As to Mr. Bird's chances of getting the republican nomination, it should be remembered that he is not a single progressive, or former progressive, has had a place of im-

OUR STREET DEFECTS

Not in recent years have the streets of our city been in such deplorable condition as at present. Everywhere except in the smooth paved streets there are breaks and holes which are very severe upon motor vehicles. It may be said that the vast increase in motor traffic is responsible for the great number of cavities in the streets; but many of the thoroughfares on which there is very little of such traffic are fully as bad as the principal thoroughfares where the auto traffic is heaviest. If the street department cannot make any extensive repairs, it should be able, at least, to have repair gangs fill the holes with some kind of grout that would lessen the jounces to motor vehicles passing over these danger spots.

It appears that an effort has already been made to fill some of the breaks in the street surfacing, but only with loose, broken stone. If a binder of some kind were used, the job would be much better and more permanent. As a result of the recent rains, as one passes through some of the busiest streets, it is necessary to dodge pools here and there as some of them are dangerously deep and treacherous.

The condition of the streets calls for immediate and general improvement.

SEEN AND HEARD

How did you like first day of summer yesterday?

Familiar lines seen every day: "Embargo on All Kinds of Freight."

When the present stock of shoes is exhausted in the retail stores will the price drop to the rock bottom.

That solely rests upon the ability of the shoemakers to remain on their uppers, adds a wag.

Grace Who?

A tired-looking individual entered a downtown church on a Sunday evening. Finding a pew, he made himself comfortable and awaited the sermon. The minister, after the usual formalities, announced that his topic would be "Saved by Grace."

The stranger, yielding to the soothing atmosphere of the house of worship fell asleep almost immediately after the announcement of the sermon subject. Half an hour later he awoke, almost simultaneously with the close of the sermon, and, suddenly remembering the topic, whispered to a nearby fellow-worshipper: "Wasn't his subject 'Saved by Grace?'"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Grace who?" was the next question.

Naturally there was no answer.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Knew Where He Got It.

Jinkson was leaving an evening party rather late, and when he went into the hall to put on his hat, he could not find his umbrella. He began to make rather a fuss, and the host came to help him.

"I can't think where it can have gone," said the latter. "Are you sure you had it when you came here?"

"Quite certain," replied Jinkson coldly.

"Then perhaps you left it at Hobson's?" suggested the host, feeling hurt that the honesty of his house should be questioned, and knowing his guest had come to his house from another party.

"Not at all," retorted Jinkson. "Why, man, that's where I got it!"—London Answers.

An Old Newspaper

A picture of life in Lowell in the days immediately following the close of the Civil war is furnished by a copy of the Lowell Daily Courier, bearing the date of August 31, 1866, that has been discovered by Peter H. Donohoe in preparing to retire from business in the store that he has occupied at 40 Church street for more than 40 years. The front page of the old newspaper is given up wholly to advertising. In one corner is an "ad" of patent collapsing hoop skirts with a picture of the skirts. Just below is the announcement of Daniel Lawrence & Company, "Only manufacturers of Medford rum." A railroad time-table in another column shows that there were seven trains a day over the railroad between Lowell and Boston. The inside news columns of the paper seem to be principally notable for their lack of news. There is a column story headed "Letter from Providence town." The editor expresses his opinion of reconstruction policy by saying, "Individually we want Uncle Sam to possess no territory on which his New England boys are not as safe as on the soil where they were born." The police court record shows that two drunks were in court that day. Two-thirds of the last page is given up to advertisements of proprietary medicines.

(With profound apologies to everybody who ever made up a You Tell em.)

"You tell 'em Cleo," sighed Antony; "I'm an easy Marc."

And Cleo did, you bet she did, and that's why we have today the inside dope on the Demon-eratic convention. Cleo picked up her spirit telephone and twisted the handle. "You tell 'em Oulja," said she, "I'm 'board' to death."

"Well," replied the answering spirit, "as matters are now, it's pretty much up in the air. You tell 'em Aviator; I can't see plane."

But the passed-over Aviator made argument in this wise:

"As I see this matter, you want the low down. You tell 'em Carpet; you've got the floor."

The Carpet flapped a corner and rubbed its nap on the edge of the chit-folier.

"You'd better tell 'em Pretzel; I'm all twisted now."

"Surely," thought Egypt's ancient queen, "we'll get the hot stuff now." Pretzel walked to the plate and then said to the Umpire, "It's a dry subject. I work best with beer and they took it away. You tell 'em Ocean; my tongue's tide!"

Ocean let a few waves slide over

NOTIFICATION DATES

Harding to Receive Delegation July 22, and Coolidge on July 27

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senator Harding will be formally notified of his nomination as the republican presidential candidate July 22 at his home in Marion, Ohio.

Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts will be notified of his nomination by the republican party for vice president July 27 at his Northampton home.

The dates for the two notification ceremonies were decided on yesterday at a conference here in which Senator Harding, National Chairman Hays and a sub-committee of the republican national committee participated.

The conference at its session, which lasted all day and into the early night, also agreed on an executive committee to have general charge of the campaign, but its personnel will not be made public until today in order to permit Chairman Hays to communicate with the proposed members and ascertain whether they will be willing to serve. It was understood, however, that among the members appointed was Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, O., pre-convention campaign manager for Senator Harding.

While the conference was in progress Mr. Hays issued a statement praising both Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge, the vice presidential nominee, as men measuring "up to every requirement of presidential candidates" and informally approving the senator's announced intention of conducting a "front porch" campaign.

"I'm strong for Senator Harding on the front porch campaign plan," Mr. Hays said, adding that Gov. Coolidge held a similar attitude. Such a method, he asserted, "is the only proper way for running a presidential campaign."

Mr. Hays in a conference with newspaper men announced the centre of activity in the conduct of the coming campaign would be Chicago, where he expects to spend most of his time. He said, however, that the New York office would be no less important than it had been in the past. Headquarters also will continue to be maintained, he said to Washington and San Francisco, with a branch office in Denver.

In declining to discuss campaign issues, Mr. Hays said he felt compelled to do so until after Mr. Harding has made his speech accepting the nomination. The chairman said he expected Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention campaign manager, to take even more than an advisory part in the campaign. He intimated that Mr. Daugherty, although not a member of the national committee, would be made a member of several campaign committees.

Prior to his conference with the national committee members, Mr. Harding held conferences with Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, former Senator Alton B. Beveridge of Indiana, a progressive leader; former Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina and Judge Peter C. Pritchard, who received the vote of the North Carolina delegation in the Chicago convention for the presidential nomination. All pledged their support in the campaign. Senator Smoot paid the nominee a farewell visit before leaving for his home in Utah.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Evidently a great many mothers would feel more security in letting their boys go up to the new bath-house if Officer Michael Wrenn was one of the lifeguards instead of going about with a uniform on. He is undoubtedly the leading swimmer on the police force. Many people feel that he has been misplaced in not being made a lifeguard. His service there last year surely entitles him to recognition.

There are at least a dozen stories "breaking" at city hall week after week which cannot be published for one reason or another. Sometimes, their immediate publication would jeopardize the city's interests; at other times, only part of a story is available and a better "yarn" will be obtained by waiting a few days. However, here's a story that cannot be published with names but it's too good to pass up entirely. The rumor is going the rounds of the building that city hall is to be closed June 30 because three young lady clerks in three of the most salient department offices are to be absent on that day. It happens that a brother of each of the young women in question is to be married on that date and, of course, friend sister will have to be present at the ceremony. Seldom has such a queer coincidence come to pass in the municipal building and what makes it even more unusual—each of the young men involved is to take upon himself a bride from out of town. Is it any wonder so many of the lady clerks in the municipal building hold tightly to their jobs when so many Lowell young men go out of the city to get married? What's the matter with our Lowell girls? Or can it be that out-of-town young ladies are coming here to steal our young men?

There was a service of more than usual interest at the First Congregational church Sunday evening. Just inside of the vestibule of the church was a sign visible to all passers-by on the street bidding everybody welcome to a "twilight concert." The novelty of a "twilight concert" eventually appealed to a number of persons who would not otherwise have entered the church for the large vestry on the first floor was comfortably filled when the time for beginning the exercises arrived.

The plan of the program had evidently been carefully thought out with the idea of upbuilding of making the concert reverent in tone and expressive of religious feeling. There were numbers by a well-trained male quartet, soprano solos, music on the piano and violin solos. The music chosen was of the best—there was no straining for effect, but every number was rendered faultlessly and in a reverent spirit. It appeared to be just what the audience wanted.

CHURCH CHOIR OUTING

Members of the choir of the First Congregational church went to Canobie lake this afternoon for an informal outing, which will include an outdoor sing and basket luncheon. The choir, numbering about 40, will enjoy a vacation from now until September 1.

During the last of July the Boy Scout troop of the church in charge of Scoutmaster Zierk will spend two weeks in camp at Long-Sought-For pond. The Girl Scouts of Troop 5 will occupy the camp during the first two weeks of the month.

RECOUNT OF NEW YORK CENSUS

NEW YORK, June 22.—Dissatisfaction with the government's census figures which showed that New York had gained only 854,255 residents in the last ten years caused the city authorities to start 100 enumerators on a test recount today in 117 representative districts.

It had been predicted that New York would show a gain of more than one million, putting the total population over the six million mark. Instead the government's total was a mere 1,621,181 and the Borough of Manhattan with 2,284,103 showed an actual decrease of 47,435.

WILSON AUTOCRAT

CHICAGO, June 22.—William F. McCoombs, chairman of the democratic national committee from 1912 to 1916, and manager of President Wilson's 1912 campaign, issued a statement here last night before leaving for San Francisco attacking what he characterized as the president's autocratic assumption of authority. President Wilson, he said, has no more right to call himself leader of the democratic party, "a conception heretofore never entertained by any American," than has Chief Justice White, former Speaker Champ Clark or Vice President Thomas R. Marshall.

Mr. McCoombs announced that arrangements had been made to obtain for him a seat in the New York delegation, if he decides to take the floor at San Francisco. The New York delegation, he predicted, will throw its support to Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio after casting a complimentary vote for Gov. Smith. He added that he believed a westerner, possibly from the Pacific slope, will be nominated for vice president.

His statement in part follows:

"They tell me that America has pledged its word to Europe and that this word must be redeemed in the process of a national campaign. In my belief America has pledged itself to nothing. One individual speaking as such, permitted Europe to believe that he spoke for a nation, for in the last analysis, he was nothing more than a self-appointed emissary. Nevertheless, America is asked to validate his signature affixed abroad, a signature which apparently was accepted in good faith by all the European peoples as absolute."

"The president negotiates a treaty but the senate may or may not concur by two-thirds majority. In this particular instance there has been no concurrence."

"Other nations may want a League of Nations and it may be that we do. But we do not want to commit ourselves to the League of Nations as it was brought back from Paris. It is an international issue, but it is a highly debatable question as to what importance it should have in a national campaign. Ultimately it is a question for the president and the senate to settle."

A FALSE ALARM

Right Rev. Bishop Mannix and his party on their way from Australia refused to stand while the band played America. They thought it was "God Save the King," the British national anthem, which is played to the same air. On this flimsy pretext some busybody lodged a complaint at Washington. The Rt. Rev. Bishop lost no time in declaring his respect for the American flag and our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." It should be understood that while "America" is a patriotic selection it is not our national hymn.

The old law of supply and demand seems to work backwards in Lawrence where the dealers are claiming that high prices of ice are due to the fact that fewer people are buying the commodity to cool their beer. "Blame it on prohibition" seems to be their motto, as it is also of some other people.

Some of our Lawrence friends seem to think Lowell will not have quite so much cause for feeling puffed up over being a larger city when they get their proposed new central railroad station. But, then, Lowell may have one, too, some day.

France proposes to have Germany pay her debt of 12,000,000,000 gold francs that will be due the United States in October. This is one of the results that Wilhelm did not calculate upon when he entered upon his "Me and Gott" plan of conquering the world.

Hoover's name is to go before the San Francisco convention because a number of delegates have been "instructed" to vote for him, but his chances of being nominated are about the same as that his British friends will run him as a candidate for the premiership of England.

There is nothing picayunish about Uncle Sam when he spends twenty-one billion dollars in carrying on his government for eleven months, and there are some of us old-fashioned enough to believe that it is worth what it costs.

"A Riddle" was the subject of the salutatory address at the Bartlett training school graduation exercises. That's what most of the young people are likely to find life is before they have become many years older.

Haverhill shoe manufacturers have informed labor union officials that the dead line has been reached in wage increases. The public would also like to know if it has been reached in increasing the prices of shoes.

Not last or least among the possibilities of the San Francisco convention is the one that the nomination lightning may strike pretty close to the Hon. Champ Clark, of the United States.

If any of Lowell's water-users are unhappy over the recent increase in water rates, they can find cause for consolation in Wolcott's jump in similar charges from $7.50 to $14.

GOING TO PROVIDENCE

Adjutant and Mrs. Robert Klepsiz, who have been at the head of Salvation Army work in Lowell for the past nine months, leave tomorrow for Providence, R. I., to take charge of the work being carried on there. As they go, Adjutant and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Haverhill will come to take up the work here. Adjutant Klepsiz anticipates his work in Providence with a great deal of pleasure. The field there is much larger and he will be in charge of American and Swedish corps a slum settlement, the army hotel and its industrial home. He leaves Lowell with the work here on a splendid financial footing as the result of the recent campaign which made new headquarters possible.

SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mrs. Daniel Wood in Exeter street was the scene of a very pretty surprise party on Friday evening last when about 50 friends of Miss Lillian Miller gathered and presented her a traveling bag, on the occasion of her going to Scotland on a visit. The presentation was made by Miss Dorothy Leith. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served.

Seldom has such a queer coincidence come to pass in the municipal building and what makes it even more unusual—each of the young men involved is to take upon himself a bride from out of town. Is it any wonder so many of the lady clerks in the municipal building hold tightly to their jobs when so many Lowell young men go out of the city to get married? What's the matter with our Lowell girls? Or can it be that out-of-town young ladies are coming here to steal our young men?

There was a service of more than usual interest at the First Congregational church Sunday evening. Just inside of the vestibule of the church was a sign visible to all passers-by on the street bidding everybody welcome to a "twilight concert." The novelty of a "twilight concert" eventually appealed to a number of persons who would not otherwise have entered the church for the large vestry on the first floor was comfortably filled when the time for beginning the exercises arrived.

The plan of the program had evidently been carefully thought out with the idea of upbuilding of making the concert reverent in tone and expressive of religious feeling. There were numbers by a well-trained male quartet, soprano solos, music on the piano and violin solos. The music chosen was of the best—there was no straining for effect, but every number was rendered faultlessly and in a reverent spirit. It appeared to be just what the audience wanted.

Plaited Skirts Are Still The Favorites of Fashion

BY CORA MOORE

NEW YORK, June 22.—Plaited tunics, plaited blouses and over-blouses are to be reckoned with, and practically no material is exempt.

In the illustration is shown a three-piece costume that Regina Wallace wears in "The Outfit Board." It is all in dull green-gold tone. The skirt and blouse are of tulle and the blouse of chiffon cloth. A dark green band with gold tints in it and another of dark brown silk provide the trimming. The costume is as attractive as it is practical.

The same model can also be reproduced in white serge with tiny red and white silk braid in place of the gold and brown.

The hat with the gown is in green with a dark brown glycerined ostrich.

WARNING

Is looking for a new outfit? Do not forget to visit the KOBOLSKY store, 157 Central St., Boston. Here you will find the latest in fashion, including the new plaited skirts and blouses. The store is open from 10 to 6, and is a place where you can find everything you need for your wardrobe.

CLEANED THE POISONS FROM HIS SYSTEM

A MASSACHUSETTS MAN GRATEFUL

Somerville, Mass. A well-known citizen of this city, who has suffered in the past, writes the following to Dr. J. F. True & Co.:

"I have taken all kinds of laxatives, but none of them cleaned the poison from my system as your Elixir will. I know what to use hereafter considering the effects it had on me, as I feel splendid now—my system needed a real cleaning which only your Elixir gave—other physics I have taken merely passed through my bowels." (Name on request.)

Dr. True's Elixir has relieved thousands of sufferers during the last 68 years. Imagine a prescription actually lasting so long—doctors come and doctors go, but Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which was given the world by Dr. True, is as old, the best friend to be found in your medicine closet.

Symptoms of Worms: Swollen upper lip, deranged stomach, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full bowels, with occasional griping and pain about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points bleeding out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

No Harmful Drugs—recommended by Physicians. ALL DRUGGISTS. Dr. J. F. True & Co., Auburn, Me.

INVESTIGATE KILLING OF 9 MEN AT MATEWAN

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., June 22.—Judge James Damron of the Mingo county court empaneled a special grand jury here late yesterday, to investigate the shooting at Matewan, W. Va., on May 19, in which Mayor C. C. Testerman of that village, two other residents and seven men of a private detective agency were killed and half a dozen other persons wounded.

Under the Judge's instructions, the jury will investigate every phase of the shooting including the election of the miners, murder and conspiracy to murder, alleged offer of bribes and robbery of the bodies of the detectives.

It was announced yesterday that 200 witnesses will appear before the jury. They will be summoned in relays of 10 each day.

"Mother" Jones, nationally known in the labor movement, was at Matewan yesterday. She addressed a meeting of miners here last night.

MR. RAZUTSKY WAS VERY WELL "HEELED"

LONDON, June 22.—The next time T. Razutsky wants to hide his money he'll swallow it and then be afraid it'll use a stomach pump to take it from him. Razutsky is a Pole and was on his way from America to Dantzic when taken ill and removed to an infirmary here. He only had a few shillings in English money, but the nurses found $220 in gold pieces in his clothing and then put x-rays to his boots and discovered $920 more in American gold.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

At Meeting to be Held in West Acton—Lecture and Discussion

The inquiries and letters coming in to the office of the Middlesex county bureau indicate there will be a very large attendance at the meeting which will be held under the auspices of the Middlesex county bureau and the Nashoba Fruit Producers' association at West Acton on June 24 at 9.30 a. m.

These two organizations have realized for some time that housewives throughout this section of the state were eager for help in regard to the problem of canning and preserving this season. The carelessness and high price of sugar makes it necessary for them to use different methods than they have formerly employed in saving the abundant supply of summer fruit for winter use.

In order to meet this demand, Professor W. W. Chenoweth, professor of horticultural manufactures of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Massachusetts, has been secured for an all day meeting to be held at G. A. R. hall, West Acton, Thursday, June 24th at 9.30 a. m. Professor Chenoweth has given the subject of the function of sugar in the preservation of food a great deal of study. In his laboratory the newest methods have been tried out and the best of these will be presented at the West Acton meeting.

Nearly everyone who attends the meeting will plan to bring a basket lunch and spend the day for the entire program is too good to miss.

THE PROGRAM

9.30—10 a. m. Lecture and discussion. Will include the following subjects: The real function of sugar in the preservation of fruit. Preserving fruit and jellies without sugar.

Preservation of fruit juices.

10—11 a. m. Demonstration. Making of jellies and preservation of fruit juices.

11—12 a. m. Demonstration. Making of jams.

1—2 p. m. Lecture and discussion. The preservation of vegetables.

2—3 p. m. Demonstration. Canning of fruits.

3—3.30 p. m. Demonstration. Making of fruit butters.

3.30—4 p. m. Open forum. Led by Professor Chenoweth.

NEGRO LYNCHED

Put to Death for Girl's Murder at Rincon, Ga.

SAVANNAH, June 22.—Philip Galters, a negro, was lynched near Rincon, Ga., yesterday, after he confessed to the murder of Miss Anna Jaudon, 17 years old, last week.

Galters was arrested near Silston, Ga., on information furnished by another negro.

The home guard of Savannah was ordered to Rincon to prevent the lynching, but arrived too late.

Galters first was chained to a tree and oil poured on his clothing, but when an effort was made to apply a torch the negro broke the chain.

Some one in the crowd of several hundred gathered to witness the lynching fired and this proved the signal for a fusillade.

When the negro fell dead scores of men rushed forward to get parts of his body or his clothing as souvenirs.

One of the shots fired at the negro went wild and struck a spectator in the leg.

No arrests in connection with the lynching had been made late yesterday.

TAR NOTE PUZZLES WOMAN AND POLICE

TOLEDO, June 22.—Mrs. L. W. Davis can't understand why a note smeared with tar and reading "Mrs. Davis have or you'll get this" should have been pinned to her door here. The police are trying to find out.

MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

Young Man Struck Down While Picking Berries

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., June 22.—Albert Blowers, 24 years of age, is in a hospital here with only a bare chance for his life as a result of being shot by an unknown assailant. Blowers, with his cousin, Miss Hattie Williams, had just entered a field on the outskirts of the city for the purpose of picking strawberries, when he suddenly fell, exclaiming, "I think I'm hurt." He was found to have been wounded in the back by a charge of buckshot, evidently fired at close range.

Miss Williams says she did not hear the shot fired, but "heard a whir in the air." Blowers was taken to a house nearby and from there to the hospital. No clue has yet been found to clear up the affair.

MELBA SINGS TO ALL THE WORLD

CHELMSFORD, Eng., June 22.—Mme. Melba sang for all the world at one time here. She sang into a wireless telephone transmitter at the great Marconi station and the rippling notes were carried on the ether to Berlin, Warsaw, Arlington, U.S.A., Christiania, The Hague and in Paris a phonograph record was made at the receiving station.

LADY ASTOR STILL JOLTS PARLIAMENT

LONDON, June 22.—Lady Astor is still disturbing British politeness in the house of parliament. Recently she declared she found many "old asses of reactionaries" who thought the world should remain as it is.

KILLS HIMSELF IN POLICE STATION

WATERBURY, Conn., June 22.—Arthur Proulx, 27 years old, of Biddeford, Me., committed suicide at the local police headquarters yesterday following a shooting in which Police Inspector John F. Donahue was seriously injured. The latter received his wound in an attempt to protect Georgiana Rheume, also of Biddeford, and the pretty companion of Proulx, alleged by him to be his wife. Following his attack upon the inspector, Proulx missed in an attempt to shoot the woman and with a third bullet shot himself in the head.

The shooting and suicide came as a sensational climax after an all-day investigation of Proulx's complaint that Miss Rheume had robbed him of $550.

NO BOUTS HERE

In order not to conflict with the Lawrence bouts postponed from last Saturday until next Saturday, the directors of the Crescent A. C. who had planned to run an out-door show here this week, have changed their plans. No bouts will be held in Lowell Saturday.

The action of the local men will meet with the approval of all fans. It is realized that promoter Cuddy of Lawrence is under a tremendous expense and the postponement was the only move possible in order to get a "break." Therefore it was decided to give him a clear field this week.

Joe Levy, manager of Jack Lawlor, who is booked to meet Kloby in Cuddy's circus arena on Saturday, is so confident that the Omaha boy has a good chance to win that he is seeking bouts in Boston with Tender, Jackson, Dunne, Kilbane and Valger. Lawlor has nothing to fear from these boys, and the Hocking he will hand Kloby on Saturday will make him big enough card to prevent them from seeking away. As a matter of fact, Lawlor already has wins over Valger and Dundee and held Kilbane and Jackson to draws.

Carney Beats Donley
NEW BEDFORD, June 22.—After battering Billy Carney for three rounds, Mike Donley of Newark, N. J., was floored in the fourth by a hard right-hand punch to the jaw. He took the count of nine twice in this round. Carney established a commanding lead for the remainder of the fight.

Chaney Outlasts Murray
JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 22.—Young Chaney, the Baltimore bantamweight, outlasted John Murray of New York in a 12-round bout here last night. Chaney weighed 121 pounds and Murray 125.

Although Murray scored a clean knockout in the fifth with a sharp right to the jaw, Chaney refused to take a count of five, the men fought on even terms up to the seventh. In the eighth round, Chaney took the lead and outlasted Murray for the remainder of the contest. Murray snuffed his good work in the early rounds by frequent holding.

Fits and Ryan Draw

FOUR AMERICANS WIN MATCHES

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 22.—All four Americans who played in the opening matches for the British lawn tennis championship defeated their opponents yesterday and were in no way extended during the contests. The match between C. S. Garland of Pittsburgh and O. G. N. Turnbull proved the most attractive event of the day.

With good weather for the opening of the championships a crowd of about 5000 turned out, which is regarded good for any opening round. The American colony was well represented and the American players had a most appreciative gallery.

A battle royal is anticipated tomorrow when William M. Johnston meets J. C. Parke, who is regarded among the strongest English players entered in the present tournament.

E. Norris Williams, 2nd, of Boston, United States, champion in 1913 and 1916, also won his initial match, defeating N. Field, an English provincial player, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, the American star, won his first match this afternoon, defeating P. Fussell, a medium class English player, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

C. S. Garland of Pittsburgh, defeated the English player, O. G. N. Turnbull, by a score of 7-5, 6-5, 6-3, 6-3.

GREAT INTEREST IN OLYMPIC TRY-OUTS

George V. Brown, Boston Athletic association secretary, writes to friends in this city, saying that the Olympic tryouts to be held on the Harvard stadium track on Wednesday will bring the cream of the country's running and jumping talent into competition. It will be distinctly a meet for non-hotshots, with only a few stars of the first class in the field. The tryouts are just as high, if not higher, and a huge crowd will witness it.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Eagles and White Stars will meet tonight in a twilight game on the North Common at 6:30 o'clock. For the Eagles the battery will be Harrington and Lescard.

The Cardinals will play the St. Peter's 9's on the South Common at 6:15 p. m. today.

WILL BUILD DANCE HALL

Another step in the development of the area along the Merrimack river bank on the Pawtucket boulevard as an amusement centre was taken today when the building inspector at city hall issued a permit to Louis T. Reardon and Thelma L. Lescard for the erection of a dance hall on the corner of the boulevard between Main and Newmarket avenues. The building will measure 10 by 50 feet and its erection will involve an estimated expenditure of $5000.

SURROUNDED IN WOODS

Posses Close in on Negro

Convicted of Assault Upon

13-year-old Girl

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22.—Isiah Fountain, a negro, convicted of criminal assault upon a 13-year-old white girl in Trappe, Md., was surrounded early today in a woods near Hebron, Md., by an armed posse of approximately 200 persons. Open threats were made against his life and officials fear they will not be able to hold the posse in check should he be caught.

He was convicted on April 19 and sentenced to be executed. A few weeks later he escaped but was recaptured at Seaford, Del. He got away again last Wednesday night and since then posses have been searching the country-side in all directions.

Shortly before midnight last night the posse surrounded him in a swamp near Laurel, Del., but the fugitive succeeded in breaking through the net. A short time later he was cornered in the Hebron woods and it is said his capture is only a matter of hours. When the posse entered this state from Maryland it comprised only about 200 persons but every town passed through has furnished additional members until the number has been tripled.

Although Murray scored a clean knockout in the fifth with a sharp right to the jaw, Chaney refused to take a count of five, the men fought on even terms up to the seventh. In the eighth round, Chaney took the lead and outlasted Murray for the remainder of the contest. Murray snuffed his good work in the early rounds by frequent holding.

COLLAPSE OF BUILDING IN BROOKINGS STREET

A part of the three-story brick building at 10 and 12 Brookings street, owned by Max Katz, caved in this forenoon, but fortunately no one was injured. The crash occurred in a portion of the building which is unoccupied and the shudders of the roof as well as the slats made their way clean through the floors to the cellar.

The building is a part of the old Root corporation and extends through Brookings street from Amory street to a point near the corner of French street. Only one section of the structure, that near the corner of Amory street, is occupied, two families being located on the first and second floors.

While riding a bicycle through Varnum avenue last evening, at about 9:30 o'clock, Chester P. Lord, aged 11 years and residing at 955 Varnum avenue, was struck by an automobile operated by Peter Bouchard of 31 Barclay street. The boy received a cut in his head, which was treated at the Lowell General hospital.

ACCIDENT CASES TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Loretta Frenette, a little girl residing at 1 Hancock avenue, was struck by a bicycle at the junction of Clark street and Hancock avenue yesterday afternoon, and sustained slight injuries which were treated at the Lowell Corporation hospital. The bicycle is owned and was being driven by George Petrakos of 456 Market street.

While riding a bicycle through Varnum avenue last evening, at about 9:30 o'clock, Chester P. Lord, aged 11 years and residing at 955 Varnum avenue, was struck by an automobile operated by Peter Bouchard of 31 Barclay street. The boy received a cut in his head, which was treated at the Lowell General hospital.

THE MAYOR IS IN GREAT DEMAND

Mayor Perry D. Thompson is in the midst of one of the busiest periods of the municipal year as far as the chief executive is concerned—the commencement season. This morning, His Honor addressed the graduates of the Colburn school in Lawrence street, and also the Vocational school graduates in Common street. This afternoon, he addressed the Varnum school class of 1920 at its commencement exercises. Tomorrow, he will speak at several other grammar school commencements and tomorrow evening will take a prominent part in the high school graduation program at Keith's theatre.

STOCK AT GENUINE BARGAIN PRICES

The Empire Clothing company which has conducted the store at 250 Central street, for the past two years, dealing in men's, women's and children's high grade wearing apparel, is going out of business, the Western Garment company having taken over its lease which runs till 1923.

The Empire Clothing company having accepted the attractive offer made by the new lessee, is enabled to offer its stock of $100,000 worth of merchandise at genuine bargain prices.

The store will be closed all day Thursday preparatory to the sale which will begin Friday. The entire stock must be closed out within an hour. Watch Thursday's and Friday's papers for further particulars of this sale.

YALE-HARVARD GAME

TROOPS ARE IN CONTROL

Waterbury, Conn., Quiet

Today Following Strike

Riots There Yesterday

WATERBURY, Ct., June 22.—Waterbury was outwardly quiet today following strike riots yesterday which resulted in the death of one striker, serious injury to two police officers and minor injuries to scores of others. More than 300 state and city guardsmen, fully armed, were stationed at strategic points throughout the manufacturing district ready for instant duty in case of a recurrence of the trouble, and the battalions at Hartford, Meriden, and New Haven were being held in readiness for service. A strong guard was thrown about the plant of the Scovill Mfg. Co. on Bridge street, where the police and city guard fought with crowds of strikers and their sympathizers yesterday.

The strike of unskilled workers and machinists has been in progress here several weeks. More than 10,000 are involved according to union estimates.

Permit Married Men to Work
Luigi Scallan, who is president of the New England Workers association, the body of unskilled workers, today issued a notice to the strikers that married men would be permitted to return to work while single men must remain out.

This action on the part of the one man who has had much authority over the unskilled strikers is expected to decrease the number of unemployed by many hundreds. It may have no immediate effect, however, on the strike of the machinists in the factories. The latter are now receiving strike benefits and claim to be able to stay out indefinitely.

GOV. COOLIDGE GOES TO MAINE

BOSTON, June 22.—Governor Coolidge went to Maine today. He left this morning for Augusta, where he is to spend the night as the guest of Governor Milliken. Tomorrow he will go to Lewiston to attend the commencement exercises at Bates college. He will return to Boston tomorrow evening.

Will Present McAdoo's Name

prominently in the party's quadrennial gathering next week, have reached the convention city.

Direct developments of the day were confined to physical preparation on the municipal auditorium for the convention, and the work was well advanced but much discussion was in progress as to elements that would be involved in shaping the party platform and there was strikingly little talk about candidates.

"Wet" and "Dry" Talk
Out of the talk of the day came an increasing rumble of "wet" and "dry" maneuvers which clearly indicated that leaders now look forward to a fight on the floor of the convention over efforts to make the democratic platform advocate modifications of the prohibition enforcement law through a "beer" plank.

The Oriental Problem
The league of nations issue did not fill a prominent place in talk among the leaders today, but possibility of a struggle over Japanese exclusion was suggested after Governor Stephens' letter to Sen. Colby, declaring the situation serious in California, had been read, coupled as it was with the statement of Senator Phelan of this state that the democrats should deal with the oriental problem in framing the platform, but comment on this aspect of the situation did not indicate that it was occupying an important place in the minds of leaders now on the ground.

Posters Boomer Palmer
Posters urging the claims of Attorney General Palmer began to appear after headquarters for his boom had been established, and workers in behalf of Gov. Cox of Ohio and other aspirants are beginning to arrive.

Some of the men who will have a hand in shaping the party's declaration of principles, however, talked much privately of a popular demand that the doctrine of states' rights should apply to beer restrictions.

Taken in connection with the announced purpose of W. J. Bryan to resist any weakening of prohibition enforcement measures, the talk brought to the surface the feeling of prominent democrats already here that a fierce battle on the point in the resolutions committee was not to be avoided.

The name of Senator Walsh of Montana was injected into the discussion yesterday of the probable permanent chairman of the convention. The Montana senator was mentioned by a number of leaders in a tentative way, although others said that they believed Secretary Colby of the state department would be the man urged by administration forces, despite his statement that he was not a candidate for the post.

McAdoo Makes Denial
NEW YORK, June 22.—William G. McAdoo, in a statement here last night, declared his recent announcement that he would not present his name to be presented to the San Francisco convention as a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, had no relation to the political interview with President Wilson published the day before. He declared he knew nothing of the interview until he saw it in print and that the president knew nothing of his withdrawal until after notice of it had appeared in the newspapers.

Wilson's Nomination Impossible
WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson's nomination for a third term was declared today to be impossible because of the condition of the president's health, in an interview given out by Joubert Shouse, third assistant secretary of the United States treasury.

With Hay State Delegates
CHICAGO, June 22.—As the Massachusetts delegates speed westward there has been a little more political talk than on the first day. There has been no organization or caucus held, because the friends of Senator Walsh are in the majority, and they have so far decided to wait until San Francisco is reached.

At Detroit the train sections were united and Richard H. Long of Framingham joined the party, while Congressman Phelan left the train on business, but promised to meet the delegation later.

Mr. Long is very much anti-Wilson. He is ready to vote for a League of Nations with reservations, but would rather follow Bryan than the president.

Attorney William G. McKechnie of Springfield, defender of Jennie Zimmerman, believes that the League of Nations pact should be adopted as it stands. He says that the various reservations proposed do not help it and that the League reservations would condemn it. He does not join in any such a course would hurt the party and would be just what the republicans want the democrats to do. Attorney Mitchell Sullivan of Salem favors a League of Nations with the reservations proposed by Sen. Walsh, but he also does not believe in condemning the president.

Wilson in Direct Touch
WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson plans to keep in direct touch with the leaders at the convention by means of the long distance telephone. Secretary Tumulty, acting for the president, talked with Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee on the telephone for some time yesterday.

Night Session Favored

MURDERED AND ROBBED

Former Actor's Body Found
by Wife in New Home—
$6000 Missing

NEW YORK, June 22.—Manuel Gablin, proprietor of three rooming houses and a restaurant in the Greenwich village Spanish colony, was slain yesterday by a robber, who stole money and jewelry valued at about $6000.

The murder was committed in an apartment which Mr. Gablin and his wife were to have occupied as their home the latter part of the week.

Mr. Gablin was an impersonator in vaudeville before he entered the restaurant business two years ago. He was well known in Spanish circles and had particularly endeared himself to his countrymen in Greenwich village by his magnanimity. He was ever ready to lend a helping hand and had loaned sums at various times to persons in distress, which friends said aggregated more than $10,000. It was his habit always to carry large sums of money.

The building in which the murder occurred had been leased recently by Mr. Gablin. It was his intention to open a Spanish cabaret on the ground floor.

The second floor had been renovated and furnished as a home for himself and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Gablin. It was in the bedroom of this apartment that the body was found. The upper floors of the building, which were to have been remodeled into furnished rooms, are occupied by families.

When Mr. Gablin did not return home yesterday morning after closing his restaurant at 733 Washington street, Mrs. Gablin began to worry and at day-break she went to the restaurant. Employees told Mrs. Gablin her husband had left in the company of another man at 1:30 o'clock. None of them knew the man other than by the name of "Charlie".

Unable to learn her husband's whereabouts, although she had telephoned a number of friends, Mrs. Gablin went to the new apartment at 170 Washington street, for which she had a key. She walked into the bedroom and found the partly clothed body of her husband lying across the bed. Salvatore Martinez, a tenant on the floor above, heard Mrs. Gablin's screams and summoned a policeman. An ambulance surgeon said Gablin had been shot through the heart several hours before.

Detectives Sievin and Campbell of the Charles street station and John R. Henniss, assistant district attorney, hurried to the house and questioned Mrs. Gablin, the tenants of the building and employees of the restaurant. Mrs. Martinez told the detectives of having heard a noise during the night, which sounded as though someone had banged a door. The apartment was searched thoroughly, but no weapon could be found. The bed bore evidence, the detectives say, that more than one person had slept in it.

Mrs. Gablin found her husband's two diamond rings and his stockpin were missing. One of these rings cost $2000, she said, and the other two pieces were valued at $1000. An examination of the dead man's clothing disclosed no money, although Mrs. Gablin said her husband had nearly $3000 on his person when she saw him the night before.

The detectives believe the murderer was a man whom Mr. Gablin knew well and probably had invited to see his new apartment. The two men are thought to have retired and during the night the missing man, it is the theory of the police, arose and shot Gablin while he slept.

BIG DAY AT HARVARD

of Brass Band—Exercises
at Stadium

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 22.—Seniors of Harvard university awakened early to the duties and delights of class day by the blaring of a brass band which paraded the college yard, held their formal exercises in Sanders Theatre today. They were joined in the Hovell features of the program by members of returning classes, celebrating their reunions in vari-colored and happy moods. At the theatre Slater Washburn of Worcester delivered the class oration, a serious effort, and Paul Rice Doolin of St. Albans, Vt., recited his class ode, which was subsequently sung by class to the tune of "Fair Harvard."

For the stadium exercises of the afternoon the graduates assembled early. With them were members of their families and those of the seniors, prepared with ammunition for the spirited combat which follows the delivery of the class oration, a witty recitation of the class history. The Ivy orator this year was Mr. Edward Scott of Lansdowne, Pa. The usual spreads and dances at clubs and fraternity houses were arranged.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI

An important meeting of the executive committee of St. Joseph's college alumni will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the college hall in Merrimack street for the purpose of making arrangements for the biennial reunion, which will be held this year. According to present arrangements it is proposed to hold the annual outing some time in August and the banquet in connection with the biennial reunion later in the fall. The executive committee of the alumni is composed of the following: Tancrède L. Blanchette, president; Napoleon Milot, vice president; Arthur H. Giroux, secretary; Dewey G. Archambault, assistant secretary; Ernest L'Heureux, treasurer; Arthur Brunelle, Nephthalie Letendre, Adolphe Lequin, Louis Renaud and Ernest Gagne, directors.

OUTING IN TYNGSBORO

The picnic of the Lowell General Hospital Aid association was held today at the camp of Mrs. Edward B. Carney in Tyngsboro. All the members planning to take the trip provided themselves with basket lunches, boarded the electric car at 10 o'clock and rode to the Vesper Country club, where automobiles will be waiting to carry them through the woodland roads to the camp. Mrs. Larkin T. Trull of Fairmount street, assisted by an able committee, was in charge of the arrangements.

ALTERATION PERMIT

The Federal Shoe company has been granted a permit by the inspector of buildings to make alterations on the first floor of its plant in Dix street. The plans contemplate the installation of a new floor. Robinson & Robinson are to do the work and the estimated cost is $100.

ADOPTS OILING ORDER

Municipal Council Authorizes Street Department to Sprinkle Certain Streets

An order authorizing the oiling of streets in various sections of the city during the present season was adopted by the municipal council this morning at its regular weekly session. The streets number more than a hundred.

Otherwise, the meeting was of a purely routine nature.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10:10 by Commissioner George R. Marchand who presided in the absence of Mayor Thompson. Commissioner Salmon was also absent, attending a convention in Montreal.

A hearing was held on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for two pole locations in Varum street and the matter was referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand. The petition of Edward Boucher for permission to maintain a garage at Avon street and Fifth avenue was opposed by Mrs. R. F. Evison. Referred to Commissioner Salmon.

Similar action was taken on the petitions of James B. O'Malley for a garage at 24 West Bowers street, Hamd Marchand for gasoline at 740 Alken st. and Albert S. Parks, garage, 25 Riverside street.

The petition of Vincent Lepore for a sewer in Newhall street was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

The petition of the Sawyer Carriage company for a garage and gasoline at 10 Stockpole street was referred to Commissioner Salmon.

The claim of Rose Scully for personal injuries alleged to have been caused by a defective sidewalk was referred to the law department.

The petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for one pole in Woodcock street was referred for a hearing July 6.

Commissioner Murphy reported favorably on the petition of James McLaughlin for a sidewalk at 219 Stockpole street and the accompanying order was adopted.

An order introduced by Commissioner Murphy for the oiling of a large number of streets in various sections of the city during the municipal year of 1920 and charging the expense to the abutters, was adopted.

Commissioners Murphy and Marchand reported favorably on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation to lay and maintain underground conduits in West Adams, Wilder and Marginal streets and the order was adopted.

A favorable report was also received on the petition of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. for two poles in Gold street, west of School street, and the accompanying order was adopted.

Several bills introduced for the Memorial day observance were approved and the city auditor was instructed to issue a warrant upon the city treasurer for their payment.

Adjourned at 10:30 until Tuesday at 10 a. m.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place at Notre Dame de Lourdes church yesterday morning when Mr. Edouard Chevalier and Miss Yvonne Clement, two well known young people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 10 o'clock by Rev. J. B. A. Barrette, O.M.I.

During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the Notre Dame de Lourdes sodality choir, of which the bride was a member. At the offertory Miss Josephine Welcome sang Gounod's "Ave Maria," while after the elevation Miss Emilie Gaudet rendered an "O Salutaris." Mrs. Rock also sang an appropriate hymn at the close of the mass. Miss Bella Lavigne presiding at the organ. The bride was attired in white georgette with veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Elizabeth Toner, who wore pink georgette with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Paul Chevalier. The bride's gift to the bride was a gold brooch, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. The groom's remembrance to the bride was $50 in cash. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Victor Clement, 121 Branch street, where a wedding breakfast was served. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Chevalier, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, were honored at a reception in Highland hall, and in the latter part of the evening they left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to the various beaches along the North shore. Upon their return they will make their home at 121 Branch street. Attending the festivities were guests from Lawrence, Stoneham, New Haven, Conn., Montreal and Marlboro.

McLaughlin—Doherty

Mr. Harry McLaughlin and Miss Mary Doherty were married this morning at St. Peter's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Francis Egan. The bride wore white georgette and picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Bernard Doherty, a brother of the bride. At the close of the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anne Doherty, 16 Madison street, where the couple will make their home after an extended wedding trip.

Nadeau—Crevier

The marriage of Mr. Joseph Alfred Nadeau and Miss Sylvia Crevier took place yesterday at St. Louis church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. F. N. Gauthier. The bride wore white georgette and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her father, Mr. Gauthier, while the groom's favor was his father, Mr. Thomas Nadeau. After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, 502 West Sixth street, and in the evening a reception was held at the home of the groom, 822 Lakeview avenue. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau in the receiving line at the reception were Mr. Arthur Crevier and Miss Rose Comtois, and Mr. Omer Crevier and Miss Martha Nadeau. Present at the festivities were guests from Lynn, Boston, Chicopee and Cambridge. Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau, who received numerous wedding gifts, left in the evening on a honeymoon trip to New Hampshire, Boston and Lynn, and upon their return after July 4, they will be at home to their friends at 755 Lakeview avenue.

Boucher—Lowrey

Mr. Joseph Wilfrid Boucher and Miss Anna Lowrey, two well known young people of Centralville, were united in the bonds of matrimony yesterday, the ceremony being performed at St. Louis church by Rev. Felix Tessier. The bride was attired in white georgette with veil and carried bridal roses. The best man was Mr. Leon Boucher, a brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold signet ring, while the bride's favor to the best man was a cameo pendant. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 110 West Sixth street and present were guests from Boston, Providence and New York. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in this city.

New Railroad Strike Spreads

Continued

In Jersey City to consider plans for combating a possible walk-out. Railway managers and union leaders pointed out that the original strike is still in force here and that the present yard employees are not members of the union.

Reports Exaggerated

NEW YORK, June 22.—Reports that 4000 men are out in the Syracuse division of the New York Central and the Lackawanna are exaggerated an official of the New York Central said today.

Latest accounts gave the number of Syracuse strikers on each road as four train crews or about 80 men altogether.

No Change at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., June 22.—The railroad strike in the Baltimore district was virtually unchanged today. An official of the Pennsylvania lines estimated that between 35 and 40 per cent of their yardmen were back at work while the B. & O. reported that 60 per cent of their men were still out. C. W. Galloway, vice-president of the B. & O. in charge of operations, said that as far as that road was concerned the situation was unchanged over yesterday. Mr. Galloway today issued an ultimatum similar to that of the Pennsylvania railroad, under which the Baltimore and Ohio men would be "considered out of the service" unless they report back before a certain hour.

There has been no interference with the passenger service of either road, it was stated, and the roads have been able to handle foodstuffs without restriction. They also have kept live stock and mail moving, the latter chiefly for the railroads themselves.

The wages asked follow: Yard brakeman, $1 an hour. Yard engineers, $1.50; yard conductors, $1.10; through freight engineers, $1.50; firemen from the engine, $1.35; freight conductors, $1.15; freight brakemen, 55c; local freight conductors, $1.35; local freight brakemen, $1.05; passenger engineer, $2 a day; firemen, $7.60; conductors, $6.00; baggage men, $6.50; brakemen, $5.60.

Little Change at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Little change was noted in the railroad yardmen's strike here early today. Both sides continued to make contradictory claims as to the number of men out and the effect the strike has had on the movement of freight.

Strike leaders declare nearly four thousand men of the three railroads, the Pennsylvania, Reading, and Baltimore & Ohio, are idle and that freight traffic, especially in the Pennsylvania and Reading yards is virtually at a standstill. Embargoes on all except perishable freight and coal for public utilities are in effect on all three roads and the Reading admits that its freight service in and around Philadelphia has been seriously affected. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, however, declare all their yards are operating nearly 100 per cent. normal.

In a statement last night the Pennsylvania said that 1151 of its yard employees were out, but that there was no freight congestion in their yards, due to the better organization of volunteer crews; officials of the Reading claimed that only 100 men had quit work on its lines, while the B. & O. reported "a negligible number out."

Several nearby towns reported accessions to the ranks of the strikers today, including several freight handlers at Norristown. Strike leaders declared that a general walkout would result on Friday unless the United States labor board hands down a decision which is satisfactory to the men.

Government Watches Strike

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Strikes of railroad employees which began several days ago in Philadelphia and Baltimore and since have spread to other eastern railroad centers are being watched closely by government officials, so far as could be learned today no steps to combat the spreading epidemic of walk-outs had been decided on by any government agency, officials generally relying upon the recognized union heads to bring about the return of the strikers.

W. N. Deak, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has been giving the situation his attention for several days and unless today's reports showed a change for the better, he planned to call at the White House to lay the situation before officials there.

Report Strike Checked

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The railroad strike apparently has been checked in this city, although strike leaders say a big walkout will come on Friday. Railroad officials declared some of the strikers returned to their posts today and that there was a slight improvement in movement of freight. Gov. Sprunt today discussed the situation with officials of the Pennsylvania department of labor who are trying to settle the strike through mediation. It was reported the governor contemplates sending a request to the railroad labor board at Washington asking that a decision be reached immediately on the demands for increased wages.

Extent Not Apparent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The extent of the strike of switchmen in the local yards was not definitely apparent today. The effect, however, is the placing of an embargo on all outgoing freight from these yards. Nineteen switchmen in one shift did not report. Railroad officers said they had no demands presented them. The movement of passenger trains is not impeded.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Appeals Taken by Autoists
Sentenced and Fined—
Other Cases

One month in the house of correction and a $10 fine for drunkenness were imposed upon George H. O'Brien of Boston, the driver of the automobile which ran over the river embankment yesterday afternoon at Tyngsboro, thus endangering his own life and those of the other three occupants of the car. Two charges, one for drunkenness and the other for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, were preferred against O'Brien, while a drunkenness complaint, for which he was fined $10, was entered against John Mylen, a machinist of Boston, who was also in the auto. The other two men, said to be members of the Boston police department, who were on their way to New Hampshire for their vacation, were released with no complaint. O'Brien entered an appeal from the sentence and was held in $500 bonds for the superior court.

Officer Holt of Tyngsboro and a resident near where the accident occurred, both of whom escorted the men to the local police station yesterday afternoon, appeared as witnesses.

Other Autoists Fined

Frank D. Green, of East Chelmsford, was arrested last night about 10 o'clock on Gorham street near the city line for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Officers Connors and Quinlan testified that Green had a slight accident with a motorcycle to which was attached a side-car containing a woman and a baby. Though the machine or occupants were unharmed, the woman became hysterical. The defendant appealed from the decision of one month to the house of correction and a $10 fine for drunkenness.

John Karaglanis was arrested recently by motorcycle Officer Murphy on Rogers street for driving his automobile so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. The officer testified that he had to put his machine up to 40 miles an hour to catch his man and chase him from Oakland square to the Wamsit bridge. He was fined $25.

Nathan Greenbourne was charged with violating an ordinance of the city of Lowell on June 9 by allowing his machine to stand in the restricted zone of Central street for one hour. Officer Lane was the arresting officer. Greenbourne who is from Lawrence pleaded ignorance of the law. He was fined $2.

Camille G. Richter of Boston charged with violation of a city ordinance by allowing his auto to remain in the restricted zone of Central street for more than five minutes, was fined $2. Officer Lane said that it was left there for 25 minutes. Richter also pleaded ignorance of the Lowell regulation and the difference between them and those of his home city.

Non-Support Case

Wladek Perlak was charged with non-support of his wife since April and pleaded guilty. He was found guilty and was given his choice of a four months' sentence to the house of correction or of paying $15 per week to the probation officer. He chose the latter, to begin his first payment before Monday.

For Drunkenness

Michael McDermott was fined $10 yesterday for drunkenness and given time to pay but he was arrested again on the same charge last night. An additional fine of $5 was imposed and a warning of a last chance noted out by the judge. He was given until July 3 to pay.

James Burns was charged with drunkenness, but as it is alleged that he had some trouble with his wife (the case was continued for one week for investigation).

Frank McCluskey was fined $15 and James Carroll $10 for drunkenness and four drinks were released by the probation officer.

NEW CHAMBER OF
COMMERCE BUREAUS

Two of the most important constructive activities fostered by the Lowell chamber of commerce—the Americanization and traffic bureaus—will begin to function on July 1. It was announced today. At that time Joseph Spano, field secretary of the North American Civic League for Immigrants, will come here to install the bureau of Americanization and at the same time Winfield Whitecomb, now a head clerk for the Boston & Maine railroad, will take over his duties as manager of the new traffic bureau.

Each of these new undertakings will make its headquarters in the present chamber of commerce rooms in Merrimack square and directly will be a part of the chamber.

President W. N. Goodell spoke enthusiastically of both bureaus today in discussing their programs of work. "They constitute two of the most important activities of the chamber," he said, "and I am sure the directors feel that whatever expense is involved will be fully justified in actual results."

"In no manner should it be presumed," he continued, "that the Americanization bureau will in any way interfere with any other activity now being conducted along the same line. The chamber of commerce as well as the civic league desires only to co-operate in every possible way with all organizations working out Americanization programs."

"More and more it is becoming apparent that without education, alien are not coming any nearer to American ideas or ideals and that real Americanization will come only through education. This is the program of the new work the chamber plans to establish."

In speaking of the traffic bureau, President Goodell said that a number of inquiries already have been received regarding the time of establishing it and so much interest has been shown that its duties are sure to be manifold and its assistance much sought after.

Woman Lawyer Wins Highest Legal Honor Ever Accorded Her Sex

MRS. ANNETTE ABBOTT ADAMS, ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL, ADMITS SHE'S HAPPIEST WHEN "HOUSEKEEPING."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, who is leaving her job here as United States district attorney to be assistant attorney general, the highest legal office ever held by a woman, will depart from what she holds dearest when she goes to Washington next month—her home.

Though almost coldly intellectual, and able as any man in her calling, she admits she's happiest when cooking, dusting and washing dishes in her charming five-room flat near the ocean.

Books Are Companions

Mrs. Adams lives alone, but she is not lonely. Her only companions are rows of books, mostly of a kind called "old-fashioned," and some of the finest old landscapes that ever decked a wall. She had just finished breakfast which she had cooked and eaten by herself, when she answered the bell.

"My friends ask me why I don't board," she explained, as she dealt a telling swing with a flyswatter on the last fly in the sunny dining-room.

"Well, I find my greatest relaxation after the grind of the office in housework. I guess it's because I love my home so much that I've taken such an

If you have been indiscreet in eating, living habits, or your system taxed by overwork, and you have become all run down, don't stay that way, it is dangerous, as you are in a condition to take on many other more serious diseases. Build yourself up again by simply taking from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after each meal, and watch how quickly you will regain your normal health again.

People beyond the age of middle life cannot stand what they used to, and have to be more discreet in all of their modes of living. The majority of such people need to take occasionally a good stomach and liver regulator, for it is an indisputable fact that by keeping the liver active and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order, old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person. To attain this, there is no better remedy than SEVEN BARKS, which has for many, many years faithfully and successfully served the public.

If your system gets run-down, take warning, or you will be sorry when it's too late. Take plenty of exercise, fresh air, keep good hours, eat moderately of the right food, and tone up your stomach, liver and kidneys by taking SEVEN BARKS. For sale by druggists, 50 cents per bottle—A. L.

TODAY IN HISTORY SLIGHTLY JAZZED

Men never fought in the air until the great war, you say? Oh, yes, they did. Just 112 years ago today, June 23, 1808, M. de Grandpre and M. le Pique put on the first aerial scrap on record. Both were eager for the favor of Mlle. Thireuil of the Imperial Opera of Paris and the race seemed to be a dead heat.

They proposed a duel and the dancer agreed to let it be an elimination contest. M. de Grandpre and M. le Pique, however, were original boulevardiers and fighting on the ground seemed to them too tame. So they had two balloons made and agreed to take the decision higher. Each with a second, they ascended, and, at a signal from below, turned loose their blunderbusses, shooting not at each other, but at each other's balloons.

History does not explain how M. le Pique missed so large a mark, but he did. M. de Grandpre had better luck and the Pique balloon crashed to the ground, killing that principal and his second. History does not record the name of the second, who, it would appear, had more fool courage than either of the aerial duellists, for, presumably, he was not even angry.

BLAME YOUTHFUL "BANDITS" FOR THEFT

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—Two school-boys who "learned the trade" from Jesse James, are held to be responsible for the theft of a small safe containing several hundred dollars worth of jewels from Mrs. Frank Wolser here. The safe was said to have been tried to open the safe and failing, to have loaded it into a top wagon and hauled it away. Police searching.

GAHANNA, O., June 22.—Are spooks throwing bricks at George Baker's house? For several weeks bombardments of bricks have kept the Baker family awake at night. Deputy sheriffs have encircled the house and failed to stop the siege. There are no bricks nearby and so some folks here say it's the work of ghosts.

"Tiz" for Aching, Sore, Tired Feet

Use "Tiz" for Tender, Puffed-up, Earning, Calloused Feet and Corns

People who are forced to stand on their feet all day know what sore, tender, sweaty, burning feet mean. They use "Tiz" and "Tiz" cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. "Tiz" is the only remedy in the world that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet and cause tenderness, sore, tired, aching feet. It instantly stops the pain in corns, callouses and bunions. It's simply glorious. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel after using "Tiz." You'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't tighten and hurt your feet.

SUN STORY AIDS IN CAPTURE

Doctor Who Escaped From Insane Hospital Was Apprehended Here

Observed That Registration Numbers Corresponded and Notified the Police

Dr. James E. Keown, physician-lawyer and president of the Lynn Biological society, who escaped from the insane hospital at Danvers on Sunday after confinement for ten days of observation, last night was apprehended in Lowell and taken into police custody until officers of the asylum came to take him back to the institution.

His capture was brought about under unique circumstances and was made while he was waiting for gasoline at the store of J. R. V. Coburn in Mammoth road shortly before 8 p. m. Young men of the neighborhood, sitting on the store steps had just finished reading in The Sun, the story of his escape from the Danvers institution in which the touring car he was believed to have used in his escape was described, including the registration number, Mass. 127,215.

When a large machine drove up to the store and the driver got out to ask for gasoline, one of the young men noticed the number of the registration plate and realizing that it corresponded exactly with the one in the story, the police station was called. Capt. Atkinson sent Sgt. Bigelow and Inspector Walsh to the scene and also notified Patrolman Goldrick in the Pawtucketville section. Dr. Keown offered no resistance when taken in charge. It is said.

The Lynn doctor was held at the police station until officers of the Danvers hospital arrived to take him back. He showed no particular concern about himself, but expressed a desire to have his automobile either disposed of or given to one of his friends. He did not mention anyone who aided in his escape, nor did he say where he spent Sunday night.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward F. Flynn of Essex county said last evening in an interview at his home in Lynn, that there will be a grand jury investigation to determine who is responsible for the escape of Dr. Keown from the Danvers insane hospital on Sunday afternoon. The escape of the Lynn physician was reported to Judge Christopher T. Callahan of the Essex county superior court yesterday morning and the court immediately conferred with Dist. Atty. S. Howard Donnell and his assistant, Mr. Flynn, with the result that the grand jury investigation was decided upon. An attempt will be made to learn who allowed Keown his liberty on Sunday, after nine days' confinement to his ward; why it was allowed, and why it was that came in the automobile and helped him to get away.

It was learned last night that on Friday there was a meeting of the five doctors who have examined Dr. Keown as to his sanity, as professional alienists, and they reached a unanimous decision that the man is insane. They were to make a report to this effect to Judge Callahan in the Essex superior court yesterday morning.

Writ of Habeas Corpus BOSTON, June 22.—A writ of habeas corpus for Dr. James E. Keown, who was returned to Danvers insane asylum today after two days of freedom following his escape on Sunday, was filed in the federal court today by Attorney Morris Katzoff. Counsel contended that the state courts which ordered Dr. Keown committed 2 weeks ago were without jurisdiction because he was a citizen of California and because involving the purchase of an automobile in which Dr. Keown was involved had been transferred to the federal courts before the order of commitment was issued. A hearing was set for next Monday.

CHARLES F. YOUNG

Funeral of Well Known Mill Man Held Today

The funeral services of Charles F. Young were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence, 1143 Mid-dlesex street, Rev. Charles T. Billings officiating. The floral offerings from friends and organizations with which Mr. Young was associated were profuse and beautiful.

The honorary bearers were Mr. Frederick F. Ayer, president of the Tremont and Suffolk mills; Mr. C. V. Baker, president of the proprietors of Locks and Canals on Merrimack river and treasurer of the Lawrence Manufacturing company; Mr. Arthur J. Cummoek, of the firm of Callin & Co.; Arthur G. Pollard, chairman of the trustees of the Lowell Textile school; Mr. M. A. Rawlinson, agent of the Tremont and Suffolk mills and treasurer of the Ayer home, and Mayor Perry D. Thompson of the city of Lowell.

The active bearers, all of whom were from the Tremont and Suffolk mills, were: Mr. William W. Rawlinson, Mr. Thomas M. Smith, Mr. Joseph Bosquet, Mr. John Curran, Mr. Edward Connors, Mr. Rufus White, Mr. Ernest E. Shelters and Mr. Emil Carusel.

Delegations and representatives were present from the trustees of the Ayer home, trustees of the Lowell Textile school and trustees of the Merrimack River Savings bank.

The various Masonic bodies with which Mr. Young was affiliated were represented by the following: Kliffing lodge, W. M. Harry L. Parkhurst, J. Victor Carey, Edgar Dixon, Alvah H. Weaver, M. Calvary Chapter of Rose Croix; T.E.M., Henry B. Harris, Frank K. Starns, Avery R. Clark, Winslow B. Clark.

Interment was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, a brief committal service being held in which all of the Masonic fraternity present participated.

The entire plant of the Tremont and Suffolk mills and the Merrimack River Savings bank were closed during the funeral services.

The funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. John F. Sawyer, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Huxley.

Heavy Damage by Earthquake

A few minutes apart and at 1:45 o'clock the third and fourth tremors were felt in the south section of Los Angeles and Inglewood. No damage resulted from these. The front walls of the Inglewood hotel, a theatre, an undertaking establishment, a real estate office, three grocery stores, two meat markets, two garages, a poolroom, a drug store, a furniture store and other downtown buildings collapsed. The steeple of the Episcopal church, toppled into the street and the buildings occupied by the Citizens Savings bank and the First National bank of Inglewood virtually were destroyed. A vast portion in Inglewood were slightly injured by falling plaster and bricks and broken glass, but no serious injuries were reported.

SHOE WORKERS REJECT OFFER

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 22.—The workers on McKay and Welt shoes, numbering approximately 1,000, have rejected the proposition submitted by the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' Association, relative to hours, wages, and general working conditions. Recommendations embraced in the proposal, according to the general agent of the Shoe Workers' Protective Union, Joseph C. Gorette, call for a reduction in wages in all principal operations and the 48 hour in place of the prevailing 45 hour week. The manufacturer have asked for a reply to their proposition by June 25. The various locals of the union are considering the matter at their regular meetings during the present week.

CHANGES AT FRISCO

Visitors to Democratic Convention Will See Few Reminders of Old Days

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Visitors to the democratic national convention will see but few reminders of the old romantic days of San Francisco, when the red-shirted miners swept down from the gold streaked reaches of the Sierras and threw fistfuls of "pay dirt" on the bars or the store counters for whatever they wished to purchase.

Gone is the roaring "Barbary Coast" and its less picturesque environs, "Bottle" Koenig and "Bottle" Meyers, who used to run noisy cock fighting establishments in what is now the shadow of the hall of justice, have long since passed on and the "Monte Carlo Dance Hall," most blaring and blatant of all the coast resorts, is hardly a memory.

Chinatown guides still point out the little restaurant hanging precariously over old Dupont street, where Frank Norris, the author, went occasionally to get a bit of local color. Directly ahead and facing the hall of justice is Portsmouth square, a cove for the city's human drift, where the Vigilants staged many a stirring scene and the "sand-lotters" under the leadership of fiery Dennis Kearney, discussed the town's political issues.

Most of the old cafes, where much of the city's history was plotted, remain in name only. Gone is Duncan Nichols, the "Bank Exchange" of former days, where the famous Plisco Punch was served over a mahogany bar that was brought around the Horn. The old Cliff House, where presidents of the United States and other renowned itinerants used to enjoy the sea food breakfasts, was burned years ago.

On Waverly place still may be seen the quarters of the old Siberia club, stronghold of Yee Nee, "King of Chinatown." Here, before the police "axe parties" became a feature of Chinatown, the chance games of "goon-can," "Shuck-a-luk" and "fan-tan" were played in the midst of a maze of corridors, sliding panels worked by secret springs and exotic odors of opium and Chinese dishes.

The black decks that lined the "front" from China basin to the presidio are gone and stately berths for ocean liners have risen in their place. The dingy bars that stood back of them, where adventurers of all degrees were once dropped, drug-stuffed, through trap-doors and into waiting boats below as part of the great "shanghai" fame, all have been swept away. The "shanghai" was the system for recruiting the crews of the "lime-jerkers," the great deep sea bar-jacks, that plied principally between San Francisco and South American ports.

Nob Hill, once the home of the city's elite, shows a collection of jagged foundations, much as the great fire left it. "South of the Slot," the ancient tenements have given way to smart apartments. In their midst, standing the slowly disintegrating ruins of the "Mission of Sorrow," known to the Spanish as the "Mission of the Dead," built in 1775 by the Franciscans. It is the best memento of the romantic old San Francisco that endures.

The conditions of the New England railroads in coal are extremely low, it was reported at the conference. Two railroads, he said, reported only a 38-hour supply of "effective" coal, while the other roads average only a 10 days supply.

Foreign capital invested in Germany since the peace treaty was signed is estimated at $5,000,000 marks, of which nearly one-half is American.

COAL FOR NEW ENGLAND

Plans for New and Quicker Route—Shuttle Train From Mines to Baltimore

BOSTON, June 22.—Plans for a new route by which locomotive coal may be brought to New England from West Virginia much more speedily and in much greater quantities than has been the case for some time were announced yesterday by James J. Storrow, New England fuel administrator, who spent the day in conference with railroad men in an effort to perfect the machinery for relieving the coal famine.

The new route is a rapid shuttle movement of coal trains between the West Virginia mines and Baltimore, over the direct route provided by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and the transportation of the coal by water from Baltimore to New England.

Hitherto, coal from West Virginia, whence comes most of the so-called locomotive coal, has been sent to New England by a circuitous all-rail route which has proved a very slow method of getting the badly needed coal to New England.

When Mr. Storrow consulted in Washington last week with President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, he promised him that the shuttle movement just described should be inaugurated for the benefit of New England.

It is estimated that by this new service the round trip of coal trains between the mines and Baltimore, with all the loading and unloading involved, can be accomplished inside of a week, whereas the all-rail route to New England consumes, upon an average, six weeks for a one-way trip. Moreover, a vastly increased quantity of coal can be brought here in a given time than under the former system.

Mr. Storrow spent yesterday morning in consultation with Borden Covel, president of the New England Wholesale Coal Dealers' Association, later meeting all the local shippers to discuss perfecting of the machinery for distribution throughout New England.

Centers With Railroad Men In the afternoon Mr. Storrow was in conference with President James H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine railroad, President Morris McDonald of the Maine Central, President H. M. Bischoff of the Boston & Albany, Vice President C. L. Bards of the New Haven and the purchasing agents of each of these roads.

The railroad men agreed to pool their interests in purchasing coal and securing its movement to New England. Charles D. Barrows, fuel agent for the Maine Central railroad, has been placed upon Mr. Storrow's executive staff for the special purpose of aiding him in looking after railroad fuel, the purchasing of coal and the continuous chartering of vessels to carry it from the southern ports to New England.

Mr. Storrow points out that one car on this route can do many times the work it did under the slow and ineffective all-rail route. While most of the locomotive coal used in this section will come by way of Baltimore, Mr. Storrow said commercial coal will, for the most part, come by way of Hampton Roads.

The conditions of the New England railroads in coal are extremely low, it was reported at the conference. Two railroads, he said, reported only a 38-hour supply of "effective" coal, while the other roads average only a 10 days supply.

Foreign capital invested in Germany since the peace treaty was signed is estimated at $5,000,000 marks, of which nearly one-half is American.

At Vocational School

Continued luncheon for six that should cost $1.50, or an average of 30 cents per person. The menu selected for demonstration, and the cost of the articles comprising it was as follows: Meat and rice mould, $1.14; cucumber salad, 1.25; Twin mountain muffins, 1.20; strawberry tarts, $1.85. The students, in preparing the luncheon, one of the members of the class stated, were expected to take into consideration the appetizing and food value qualities of the ingredients as well as the cost. The class then showed how the different articles were prepared explaining each step as the demonstration progressed.

The cooking demonstration was followed by an exhibition of summer millinery. Each member of the class wore a hat that she had made for herself and explained technical points of its construction. The cost of most of the hats had been less than $5 although it was stated that they represented a market value of $15 or $20.

Next came a demonstration in dress-making. With one of the young women serving as a model, measurements were taken, patterns adjusted, cloth cut, the garment tried on and practically finished. A popular coat design was selected for demonstration.

The home-nursing number was one of the most interesting on the program. While one of the young women, supposedly in her own home, was engaged in reading a book, news came that her mother had been called away and that the maid servants must be absent for awhile.

A young woman friend, who has had training in the essentials of home nursing, was called in by telephone. As soon as she had arrived, another young woman was brought in who had been injured in an automobile accident. She was put in bed, and her wound treated and bandaged in a most thorough and scientific manner.

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, made a brief address in which he spoke of the important part played by vocational training in the city's educational system.

"For several years," Mr. Molloy said, "the state has believed in the promotion of vocational training and has made it one of its principal cares. This school is only ten years old and some might say that it is still in its experimental stages. After taking into consideration the work of the school as you have seen it demonstrated, you will say that the experiment has been an assured success. The work of this school looks out on some of the most important things in life.

"Much is said nowadays about fads in education. One is lead to fear that the people will think that serious-minded men in charge of our educational institutions are trying to pass off on them things in the schools that are not essentials. There is, of course, experimenting in education in the city, state and nation, but it is necessary experimenting."

Miss Margaret L. Robinson, home demonstration agent of the Middlesex county farm bureau, delivered an address on "Efficiency in Cooking and Clothing." She said that she was pleased to be present at graduation exercises where the students showed how to do work that they have been taught to do instead of reading long essays on the subjects that the president, or someone else, might be trusted to look after. She referred to the fact that there are more people and homes in Middlesex county than in the state of Vermont and New Hampshire combined. She told of her work in homes in teaching women who had not had the advantages of vocational training how to do things, in the right way.

Miss Harriet Christien Myhr, class president, presented the class gift to the school, a framed picture of a "Story from Homer." The gift was accepted by the principal, Thomas B. Fisher.

The diplomas were presented to the members of the graduating class by Mayor Thompson at the close of a brief address. He said that he would repeat what he had said at previous graduation exercises of the vocational school, namely, that it was "the finest graduating exercises that it had been his privilege to attend. It is too bad that the class has to graduate in such a building as this." The mayor said that he favored the building of a new school as soon as the city can afford it. He said that the city, state and nation hoped and expected that the young women would some time render service in repayment for the money that has been expended in providing their education.

Principal Fisher announced that one of the school's pupils, Agnes Allen, had not been absent during the past year. At the close of the program the people in the audience were given an opportunity to examine an exhibition of the products of the work of pupils of the school.

The graduates are: Doris Viola Aitken, Laura Helen Roudreau, Bertha Brix, Helen Rose Constantino, Ethel Lillian Hagan, Hazel Genevieve King, Flora Marion Marshall, Amy Hester Mosher, Harriet Christien Myhr, Lillian Frances Regan.

MORE TO FISHING THAN JUST FISHIN'

BY MORRIS ACKERMAN There's something doing every minute of the time as you paddle down the beautiful rivers of New Brunswick and a salmon trip.

The deer, the moose, the black duck, the beaver, the porcupine, the snow shoe rabbit and the drumming partridge.

This white birch tree shows two separate cuttings made by beavers. The upper cutting was made when snow banks encased the trunk and the lower one after the spring thaw. The beavers haven't finished the job yet, but the tree is leaning badly.

bridge—all are there to add to the outdoor call of the deep wood with its pleasing noises. Friends, there is far more to a fishing trip than just fishing. It is interesting from the time you leave the man-made railroads until the regretful moment when you have packed your tent and come back to the Nature's Poets.

My recent salmon fishing trip on the Cains river I counted 19 deer the first two days, dozens of porcupine sunning themselves in the trees, two beavers and loads of beaver cuttings and dams. The streams are banked with patches of trailing-arbutus and native flowers. The tree life of the province is all ways an interesting study that any guide will pride himself on making simple for his party.

Birch-Bark Note On my way into the salmon fishing district I found this note cut deeply on a sheet of birch-bark: "Uncle Harry: Got large catch here. Largest salmon I have ever seen was caught by Mr. Fay. Measured 46 inches. Best flies—Durham Ranger, Silver Doctor and Silver Wilkinson. George."

This note was written by George Allen to his Uncle Harry, chief guide to our party, advising us that the first salmon had been caught at the Aurore pool, some 40 miles down the Cains river from Bantalar.

Two Alarm Fire in Store of Cherry & Webb To Ignore McAdoo's Request. Launch New Drive on Radicals. Gov. Milliken of Maine Defeated.

FIREMEN FIGHT AT SHORT RANGE

Fire Wall Saves West Side of Building, But Loss to Stock Heavy

Inc calculable damage which, it is believed, will approximate $50,000, resulted from a spectacular two-alarm fire in the store of Cherry & Webb in John street, this noon. Hundreds of women's suits and other female apparel were ruined by fire, smoke and water, and for a time it seemed that the flames might be successful in their efforts to curl along the roof of the building and work into the Five Cent Savings bank building next door.

With the store manager, Walter H. Emmott, at the national convention of Rotary clubs in Atlantic City, no other company official was able to estimate the loss with any degree of accuracy, but that it will mount high into the thousands was evident to firemen and spectators.

The fire seemed to have its start in a partition on the third floor between a room given over to children's wear and the alteration room. The flames broke out with such suddenness that employees were forced to dash for lower floors and the street. The alarm from Box 217, John and Paige streets, was pulled at 12 o'clock by Charles Gallagher of the Fire department.

The heat from the flames was tremendous several minutes before the first apparatus arrived. Chemical lines attempted to hold them in check until hydrant water was obtained, but with such quantities of inflammable material on every hand, the fire had a start that was not easy to overcome. A fire wall extending the depth of the building in the center, penned the flames into a comparatively small space, but shut in on one side, they quickly worked up into an attic on the Lee street side and broke through the roof. Two boys had been in this top floor room making boxes just prior to the fire, but, contrary to reports, had returned to the ground floor before it was discovered.

Chief Saunders had not been at the fire more than five minutes when he ordered a second alarm and also sent one motor piece back to the Central station in Palmer street for the water tower. Although the tower stood in John street throughout the fire, it was not found necessary to use it.

The firemen were forced to stand a terrific grilling from smoke and flames as they hung from ladder rungs and fire escapes, fighting at close range. No long range work was possible and once or twice companies were forced back from the smoke pall to get a reviving breath of fresh air.

Tons of water fell into the building from three sides and gradually soaked its way through lower floors and rolled out into John street in cataract streams. The water pressure at the hydrants was uniformly good and although pumping engines were ready to work the chief did not find it necessary to call upon them.

Fire Attracts Crowd
Occurring at the noon hour, the fire attracted thousands of spectators and fire lines, held by augmented police details, were necessary. Leaking connecting joints and an occasional bursting pipe line liberally showered those who edged too near the building. And once or twice, streams from the Lee street side curved over the roof and found squealing marks among the spectators in John street.

As the water began to have a quenching effect upon the flames, great rolls of black smoke drifted from the windows and could be seen from almost any point in the city. This gave appearance of a fire of much greater magnitude than really was the case, although in its restricted area it burned with unusual fierceness and damaging effect.

As far as could be learned, the building, which is jointly owned by the Cherry and Webb Co. and the Parker estate, was covered by insurance, as well as the stock. T. C. Lee and Co. has the insurance.

Where There's a Will There's a Way

FOR A WHOLE LOT OF TROUBLE

When one dies, and it is appalled for all men are to die, it often happens that up will can be found, though it may be known that a will is or was in existence. Sometimes a will turns up after an estate has been administered, then there is real trouble. A will should never leave the absolute control of the testator. If the will is in one's Safe Deposit Box, it's safe and sure to be in hand at the appointed time. There is no other way except by dependence on others. Depending on others is very uncertain. Where there's a will there's a RIGHT WAY—the way of the Safe Deposit Box. Do Right. Save Trouble for those who follow you. $5, $10, $25 and $50. Quick action, absolute privacy, painstaking attention. Your own control.

NEW RAILROAD STRIKE SPREADS

Breaks Out in New Jersey—Also Appears at Syracuse, N. Y. and New Haven

R. R. Managers Confident Movement Will Not Affect New York City

NEW YORK, June 22.—Although the new railroad strike has suddenly spread to southern New Jersey and has appeared at Syracuse and New Haven, Conn., the majority of railroad managers declared today that they did not believe the movement would affect New York City to any great extent.

Edward J. Armstrong, chairman of the Eastern Railway Men's association, disagreed with the general view, however, predicting that the strike eventually would reach this city and environs. He said a meeting of the association would be held tomorrow.

HOT TIME AT TOWN MEETING

That Non-Voters Participated in Meeting Was Also Alleged

The proposition to legalize Sunday sports, particularly baseball, was defeated by a vote of 135 to 147 at a special meeting of the town of Billerica last evening at which charges were freely made from the floor that steam roller and "gag rule" methods were being employed by the moderator and that "no" ballots had been forced into the hands of intending "yes" voters by the four clerks. It was also openly alleged on the floor that social ostracism might be employed against citizens who voted in favor of the measure, that non-voters were taking part in the meeting, and that the town is now a field in which gambling is carried on and noisy parties of hilarious young men and women disturb the Sunday quiet with their noise.

Altogether it was one of the liveliest town meetings that the old town has known in years. Even the big

"The Theoretical Red" and "the Parlor Bolshevik" to be Run Down

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Armed with broadened powers provided in the recently enacted Alien Exclusion act, department of justice officials today announced a new drive against radicalism. Orders have been issued officials say, for a strict watch on the activities of those who preach radical doctrines or assist in spreading such theories while they themselves refrain from actual anarchistic activities. "The Theoretical Red" and "The Parlor Bolshevik" were the two principal objects of the new act, the provisions of the new act have greatly widened the scope of the department's power to rid the country of aliens who start uprisings with guarded revolutionary doctrines.

Advocacy either of sabotage or opposition to all organized government by aliens is sufficient to bring them within the new law, according to the department's legal experts. Sabotage in this instance is considered to mean "opposition to the administration of the government" and aliens who publish writings advising against organized government—even though the United States is exempt—are liable to deportation, it was said.

The financial resources of radical associations are being carefully scrutinized, and it was thought that the income of many will be cut off by the new law which provides against the giving or loaning of money to anarchistic organizations. Purchase of "red bonds" will come within this category, it was believed.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL

Commencement Exercises to Be Held at Keith's Theatre Tomorrow Evening

Lowell high school's 1920 commencement exercises will come to a close tomorrow evening, at Keith's theatre, with the graduation of 275 members of the senior class and an address by Jeremiah E. Burke, assistant superintendent of Boston schools, on "Our Educational Heritage."

The exercises will be unique for several reasons. First, music played 30 odd years ago will be a part of the program, and second, five other young people will receive diplomas as of classes of other years. These are Mary C. Brennan, class of 1909, now a teacher out of town; George A. Leahy, Jr., class of 1919, and James M. Keith, Samuel A. Lamson and Roland S. Watts, class of 1918. The only individual presentation

GOV. MILLIKEN IS DEFEATED

Col. F. H. Parkhurst Nominated for Governor by Maine Republicans

Big Lead With Only Few Precincts Missing—Milliken Running Third

PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—Frederic H. Parkhurst had a plurality of 2,482 over John P. Deering and led Governor Milliken by 5,538, according to newspaper returns of yesterday's primaries for the republican nomination for governor. His lead was increased today by belated reports from 70 small towns and plantations. Only 50 remained to be reported.

The totals were Deering 16,120; Louis A. Jack 2,037; Gov. Milliken 13,134; Parkhurst 18,672. In a six-sided contest for republican nomination for representative to congress in the first district, although he was scarcely more than a score of votes behind, Mayor Charles B. Clark, conceded the nomination to Carroll A. Beedy, also of this city. The complete and partially revised returns gave Beedy 3,173, Clarke 3,143, Davies 2,616, Marshall 1,014, Mitchell 2,960, and Simpson 2,530.

Mayor Clark said he would not make an inspection of the ballots to determine the exact count. He pledged his support to Mr. Beedy.

The governor also stated that he accepted the result contentedly and congratulated the winner.

Mr. Parkhurst, a former chairman of the republican state committee,

DR. MURRAY APOLOGIZES

Col. Procter, Manager for Gen. Wood, Receives Telegram of Apology

GINCINNATI, O., June 22.—Colonel William Cooper Procter made public today a telegram of apology he received from Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, sent in answer to Procter's demand to know whether or not Dr. Butler had been accurately quoted in a published interview in which he was purported to have declared that gamblers and stock players were General Wood's principal backers in his campaign for the republican presidential nomination.

"Answering your telegram, June 15, I am convinced that my words, spoken under the strain, turmoil and fatigue of the Chicago convention and in sharp revolt against the power of money in politics were both unbecomingly and unwarranted and that I should and do apologize to each and every one who felt hurt by what I said."

BODY OF MAN
TAKEN FROM RIVER

The body of a man was found floating in the Merrimack river, near the wharf of the Lowell Motor Boat club this morning, shortly after 9 o'clock. The body was found by Capt. Prouty of the club, who immediately notified the police. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith was in turn notified and he ordered the body removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Saunders in Appleton street. Mr. Smith viewed the body this afternoon and stated later it was in a bad state of decomposition. The clothing bore the name of William B. Wetzel but there was nothing else to help in the identification. The police are endeavoring to positively establish the identity of the man.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

Commencement Season Got Underway Today in Local Grammar Schools

The local public school commencement season got under way today with four grammar schools holding their graduation exercises either this morning or afternoon and two more scheduled for this evening. Tomorrow, the other grammar schools will send forth their graduates and the high school class of 1920 will be graduated in the evening at Keith's theatre, this latter affair bringing the season to a close.

At 9 o'clock this morning the Edison and Colburn schools presented graduation programs before large audiences of friends and relatives of the graduates. The Pawtucket and Varum school exercises were held this afternoon while the Green and Greenhalse commencement programs will be carried out this evening.

Tomorrow morning the Butler and Morsey schools will graduate large classes and in the afternoon the Lincoln, Moody, Riverside and Washington school exercises will be held.

The exercises this year are up to the usual high standard of excellence

Commencement Exercises—
Demonstration in Cooking, Dressmaking and Nursing

A practical demonstration in cooking, dressmaking and home nursing, given by ten young women members of the graduating class, was a feature of the commencement exercises of the department of household arts of the Lowell Vocational school this morning in the Merrill school. As part of the demonstration of what they have learned at the school, the young women all wore handsome white graduation gowns that they had made themselves.

The exercises began with the march "Old Glory," played by Emil Borjes' orchestra, to the notes of which the graduating class marched into the room.

In opening, a demonstration of the proper way to prepare a luncheon for six persons was given. Four young women donned long white aprons and took their places behind a table on which were articles of food and cooking utensils. One of the class explained that each senior was expected to prepare, previous to graduation, a

MR. MARTY MINK IN DEBT

Mr. Tingaling, the fairy landlord of the "Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where," left Chirk Chipmunk's house with the twins and started off to hunt up Mr. Marty Mink, for Tingaling, looking over his books, had discovered that Marty owed him for three months' rent.

"If he doesn't pay me today," declared the fairy firmly, "I'll have to put him out of his house. I hate to do it, but he is considered to be very well off, and he should pay his debts. They say the fur coat he's wearing is worth around for every day, too—is worth a whole pocketful of money. And he doesn't even wear overalls to keep it from wearing out. Besides, being in the water so much, I should think he'd ruin it. And when he shines up trees, my wife says he's sure to scrape off about ninety-nine cents worth of fur each time. Yes—" and Tingaling wagged his head and shook his bells with disapproval, "he's got to pay me, but my middle name is Smarty and he can't put anything over on me."

That's all! His name may be Marty, but he has visions of green lawns and flower beds and clear marble-lined pools outside, and of plush carpets, and golden chairs, and feasts and rejoicing and visions of loveliness within-side, and they were wondering if they should bump their heads on the ground three times when they were introduced, as they had done before the Fairy Queen in her palace. Nancy was even making up a speech in her mind to say to him. She thought she would speak thus:

"Oh, great and glorious Mr. Marty Mink, we are pleased to meet you. What can we do for you, oh Mr. Marty Mink? And will you please tell us how much your coat cost?"

She had forgotten all about the rent, so had Nick, but Tingaling hadn't—not for one minute.

NEURALGIC PAINS

Shooting pains in the head with giddiness, pulse in the ears and tenderness of the scalp—pains in the neck and shoulders or extending down the arms to the hands, these are the most common symptoms of neuralgia.

There are a number of causes of neuralgia. It is most common in families whose members have nervous dispositions and it is very often a result of anemia or lack of blood.

Hot applications give temporary relief in neuralgia and should be used. They cannot end the trouble because the pain is the complaint that she under nourished nerve is making and it will not be quieted until the nerve is fed. The only way to reach the nerves with nourishment is through the blood. That is the way thin blood so frequently leads to neuralgia. When the blood becomes thin the nerves lack nourishment. Build up the blood, supply to it the elements that the nerves need and you begin to correct the neuralgia.

The free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," will interest you. Write for it today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price 60 cents per box.

BAY STATE CARMEN WAGE HEARING DELAYED

BOSTON, June 22.—The hearing on the Bay State Street railway wage controversy, scheduled to open at the state house today, has been postponed until June 25, because of the absence of James H. Vahey, member of the Carmen's union of the Bay State street railway arbitration board. Attorney Vahey wired from Scranton, Pa., yesterday asking for a continuance of the case until next Monday. He has been on arbitration boards in New York and Pennsylvania for several weeks. Other arbitrators in the Bay State case are P. G. Carleton, representing the company, and Hugh W. Orden, representing the public.

DISCONTINUE SURVEY AND CENSUS HERE

It is announced that due to the necessity for retrenchment the religious survey and census undertaken in this city under the direction of the Inter-Church World Movement has been discontinued for the present, at least. Rev. A. C. Warner, who was in charge of the local survey, has been transferred to work in Hampshire county with headquarters at Northampton. Mr. Warner states that he is unable to give any facts as to the financial status of the survey. It is claimed, however, that outside of the denominations that completed their quotas, the results of the financial canvass have not been satisfactory.

It was decided to conduct open sessions and opinions was expressed by the commissioners that it would not require more than 10 days to hear each side. On conclusions of the hearings the commission will come to Washington to formulate its awards, it was said.

"End Your Rheumatism

Like I Did Mine" Says Pastor Read—Wife Also Rid of Neuritis

Suffered Tortures For Years—Now Telling Good News to Others

"Don't Believe That Old Humbug About 'Uric Acid' Being the Cause of Rheumatism—It's Not So!"

Emphatically asserting that thousands of unfortunate sufferers have been led into taking wrong treatments, the old and false belief that "Uric Acid" causes rheumatism, Pastor H. W. Read says:

"As do some of our highest medical authorities, I now know that 'Uric Acid' never did and never will cause rheumatism. But it took me many years to find out this truth. I learned how to get rid of my rheumatism and recover my health and strength, through reading 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' a work written by an authority who has scientifically studied the cause and treatment of rheumatism for over twenty years. It was indeed a veritable revelation!

"I had suffered agony for years from rheumatism and associated disorders, and Mrs. Read was tortured with the demon neuritis almost beyond endurance. We had read and talked so much about 'Uric Acid' that our minds seemed poisoned. But 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' made it all clear to us and now we are both free from the suffering and misery we endured so many years. I believe it was the hardest man in the world to convert! For me to discard the old 'Uric Acid' theory, and what I now know to be absolutely false, for the new, scientific understanding of the causes and cure of rheumatism, was like asking me to change my religious beliefs! But I did change, and it was a fortunate day for me and mine when I did so."

NOTE: "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" referred to above by Pastor Read lays bare facts about rheumatism and its associated disorders overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past. It is a work that should be in the hands of every man or woman who has the slightest symptoms of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago or gout. Anyone who sends name and address to H. P. Clearwater, 1012 A Street, Hallowell, Maine, will receive it by mail, postage paid and absolutely free. Send now, lest you forget the address! If not a sufferer, cut out this explanation and hand it to some afflicted friend.—Adv.

A PRETTIER shade of blue for your sun-faded voile.

Just the perfect coral you have wanted for the costume blouse that has turned yellow from careless washing.

For blouses, for underwear, or the children's dresses, lovelier shades than you have ever been able to wash into a garment before.

You get these lovelier shades with Twink, the new colored flakes.

Twink is made by a wonderful new method for producing colors, that makes it possible to get more exquisite shades than have ever before been obtained.

When it was found that in this product any fashionable shade could be produced, the fashion color authorities of the country were asked to select the loveliest and smartest colors for this season. Twink was then made to match these colors.

The gay Twink flakes dissolve instantly in boiling or very hot water. You whip them into a bright lather and put in your yellowed crepe de chine blouse or your faded camisole. Swish it about in the rich suds for a few minutes, squeeze the suds gently through the fabric, then rinse in cold water.

In a twinkling you have a charming cool green blouse in place of your yellowed one, a dainty flesh colored camisole that looks as if it had never been worn.

Clear, even color every time

The Twink colors turn out right every time. There is not a particle of solid soap to spot or streak the garment—not a bit of rubbing to wear the fabric.

You get clear, even color every time, and color so fast that you can wash your blouse or chemise several times before its next Twinking. Twink will not injure any fabric that water alone will not harm.

Get Twink today in the season's most popular colors, the ones you have been wanting. Just follow the surprisingly easy directions that come with the package. You can get Twink at your druggist's, the department stores and the 5 and 10 cent stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

What Twink is doing for other women

I have tried several Twink colors for renewing faded and discolored blouses—and have been surprised and pleased at the ease with which the wonderful results were obtained.

One blouse which I thought could not be worn again—I used Pink Twink and it gave it a beautiful shade—making it almost new again—for only 10 cents.

I was so delighted with your new dye product that I felt I must let you know of my success. I used Twink in Turquoise on a faded light blue georgette blouse. I followed the very simple directions and my blouse turned out a beautiful even color—many of my friends spoke of what a beautiful shade of Turquoise it was, and they could scarcely believe it when I told them it had been dyed.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give up his money for the ability to produce a remedy so such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all drug stores for 25 cents a large box."

Read this letter, February 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

"I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."

Is it any wonder I am happy!

Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything, but nothing relieved me from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine others' worth of the same I am cured. The ulcer is now 6 inches by 6 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

Can you use this to recommend your ointment if you wish? I cannot say enough to praise it. Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

ESCAPE OF BERGDOLL

Federal Grand Jury Ordered
to Probe Deep and Spare
No One

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—With instructions from Judge J. Whitaker Thompson to "probe deep and spare no one," a special federal grand jury began an investigation yesterday to determine who was responsible for the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger, who eluded a military guard at his home after he had gained temporary release from confinement at Governor's Island. Bergdoll was given his freedom to search for a large sum of gold he claimed to have buried in the mountains of Maryland. Nearly a score of witnesses have been subpoenaed and a dozen were heard yesterday. Among them were four military prisoners from Governor's Island, the two non-commissioned officers who were sent with Bergdoll as guards and two of his cell mates.

As outlined by Judge Thompson, the chief purpose of the grand jury is to determine whether a conspiracy existed to free Bergdoll. Should it be found that he made his escape because of a plot, the jurors were instructed to indict the conspirators, whether of high or low position in official or civilian life.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist church has raised $128,000 of a quota of $175,000 allotted to it in a drive of the Baptist denomination, under the name of the New World movement, for $100,000,000. It is believed that considering the size of the church, its record is almost without an equal in the country. It is expected that the remainder of the quota will be raised during the summer. Already there have been 874 contributors to the fund.

A record has been kept of the progress of the drive on a cross seven feet tall. This cross is marked off into 1200 small squares, each square representing a possible giver. Whenever the name of a new contributor has been added to the list a cross has been marked in a square. One hundred red squares were reserved in the center of the cross for the fund workers.

Of the gifts received, only seven have been of sums over $1000. These have totalled $10,000.

There have been many instances of unusual self-sacrifice brought to light in connection with the drive. One young woman, a worker in the mills, pledged herself to give $500 during a period of five years and ten other persons followed her example. A night watchman has pledged $550, and a young man, who said he wanted to "measure up to what was expected of him," contributed $600. A 10-year-old boy has pledged himself to earn and give ten cents a day for four years. A little girl secured a pledge for $416 from her father.

RED PILLS

MRS. ERNEST CHARETTE

RED PILLS were my mother's favorite remedy, and she did not cease recommending them to me. I gave them a trial and they relieved me of general weakness, poor circulation, inward trouble and other minor ailments. I had started to work when very young, and although I was favored with a strong constitution, the strain was too much and I was unable to keep up my work. Now that I know how easy it is for me to keep strong and well by the use of RED PILLS, I am firmly resolved that I will continue taking them regularly, and not let myself become a victim of that terrible malady, which is Anemia.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Francis American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

CHARLES W. MOREY
SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

The minstrelsy of the Glee club of the Charles W. Morey school held forth last evening at a banquet in the Colonial restaurant when 20 pupils of the higher grades and teachers joined in very pleasant festivities. As a guest of the club Dr. James Rooney of the school board was present. The social dining room of the restaurant had been reserved for the occasion. Miss Annie Donohoe was in charge of the singing in which Greta MacPherson, Doris Conley, Leona Plouffe and Charlotte Chase acted as soloists. Other numbers included violin and piano selections. Mrs. Helen Taylor was the accompanist.

THREATENED HIS BOSS
The police of this city and Boston are on the watch for James Nunzio, an employee of the Hugh Nawn Construction company who, it is alleged, has threatened to shoot his foreman, E. F. Fitzgerald now directing work in this city. When the man first made his threats Fitzgerald notified the police and they in turn sent word to the Boston department for Nunzio is said to be in that city at present.

Not Injured

Although he fell from the fifth story piazza at the home of his parents, 47 Elm street late yesterday afternoon, Edward Bruin, aged 10 years, is resting comfortably at St. John's hospital today. The little fellow was playing on the piazza of his home at about 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when in some unaccountable manner he fell to the ground. He was rushed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital, where he is now being kept under observation for fear internal injuries may develop.

Your child's health and energy depend largely upon the nutrition the blood receives from food. All of a child's energy is needed for growing, and no child can afford to waste any strength in fighting poor digestion. Quick, regular action of the stomach, liver and bowels is necessary. This will keep the blood pure and prevent worms. At the slightest sign of irregularity, a dose of the reliable household remedy, "L.F." Atwood's Medicine, will stimulate prompt action and restore healthful conditions. Regular use of this old favorite standby of generations removes stomach disorders. The full value of the food will be absorbed into the blood, and nervousness, and restlessness will disappear. No weakening effects can result, as "L.F." simply starts natural action of the organs. It will be found helpful by the entire family in all cases of constipation, biliousness, or sick headaches. You should never be without it. Get a bottle today, 50c and use it when needed. "L.F." AFTER SCHOOL WHAT?

School graduation brings to many parents the problem of finding suitable places for their boys and girls in the industrial environment. The graduates may be divided into two classes, those who leave the high or grammar schools to go to work and those who have the good fortune of going to higher institutions of learning.

Perhaps the latter do not appreciate the privileges they enjoy, and the former, it is safe to say, do not realize the opportunities they will have to let pass in the course of a lifetime, because their education ended in the common schools. Nevertheless, those who cannot have a college education may console themselves with the thought that it is not always essential to the highest success.

Some of the most successful men got along very well without the aid of a college course. But they educated themselves. It usually happens that by far the most important part of a young man's training is that which he masters himself by hard study. Unfortunately too many young men nowadays cease to study after leaving school whereas that is the time during which they should take up special courses to fit them for positions in which technical skill is necessary. Today there are vast facilities offered for such study. In this state the department of education offers college extension courses of great merit, sending professors to instruct classes of twenty or over. In addition, the department conducts correspondence courses which each individual can take up independently and carry on at his leisure.

There are besides, many courses available at schools and colleges at a nominal expense so that nobody can reasonably complain of the lack of educational opportunities.

At first, it will be difficult for some graduates to discover for what line of work they are best adapted; but this is a problem that each and all must solve in the long run if they wish to make the best use of their talents and opportunities. In selecting an occupation, it is important to choose one in which there will be an opportunity of advancement and to avoid especially the blind alley or the cul de sac, as the French term a street or lane from which there is no passage forward. Where there is no prospect of advancement there can be no enthusiasm, without which life will become monotonous. The chief qualities that count for success are: education, ambition, industry, self-control, tact, courage, will power, character. Success will result from the proper application of these qualities and not otherwise. Nothing is more common than that men endowed with all the qualities essential to success, fail utterly for lack of tact or because of the misuse or non-use of the skill and powers they possess. Other things being equal, the youth who has specialized in some important branch of work will be most successful.

Concentration of effort is necessary to success especially for those whose talents are not particularly brilliant. The man who undertakes too much is not likely to succeed in anything. Success is usually reached by a gradual process that may be compared to the ascent of a high mountain. But you must climb. You will never reach the summit by sitting at the base and wishing you were on the top.

THE IRISH CONFLICT

That the unionists of Londonderry, who are well armed and whose houses have not been searched for arms by the government, have shot down scores of nationalists or Sinn Feiners, will be pleasing news to the police and the government. All the present trouble had its origin prior to 1914, when the Ulster unionists imported arms from Germany to be ready to fight against home rule. The government took no steps to prevent the movement and men from other parts of Ireland were jailed for attempting to do what the men of the north did with the open countenance of the government. Not only did the government permit their arming for rebellion, but it appointed Mr. Carson, their leader, to the cabinet.

It is the old, old policy of the British government to keep the north and the south divided and then to say unless they agree they can never have self-government. When in 1867 there was a rising of the Irish people they were told by government officials that if Ireland proved her loyalty, she could have anything she wanted. It was on the strength of that policy that Parnell and Redmond worked; but when the time came to make good the pledge, the government receded and the home rule act on the statute book of England, remains as proof of the perfidious betrayal of the nation by Asquith, Lloyd George and the present coalition ministry. This was on a par with the disregard of the treaty of Limerick, solemnly ratified by England and violated "ere the ink wherewith 'twas writ was dry."

England's cry today is, that until the Irish agree upon what they want, they cannot have any general home rule. What does that mean? Simply that the majority must yield to the minority which is opposed to home rule. It means that Ulster, armed and equipped with the permission of the government, is to have a veto power upon the rights of Ireland. It is a virtual establishment of minority rule and is upheld by Lloyd George and the host of reactionary Tories who support him. He shouts that Ulster cannot be coerced and the Tory remnant of a bygone age who still gloat over the battle of the Boyne, re-echoes his statement that Ulster will not be coerced, which means that one sixth of the Irish people is to hold a veto power over the rights of the remaining five-sixths. Yet in spite of this fact, Lloyd George, the greatest political mountebank and the most unprincipled politician who ever ruled England, says he is giving all classes in Ireland home rule.

The present partition measure as already stated, means that the majority is to submit to the Carsonites on the plea that if the majority had control it would be unfair to that faction. Yet for this assumption, there is not the slightest foundation. Not at any time within the last 250 years did the majority of the Irish people have an opportunity to show any unfairness to the loyalist minority. They did not have the power.

The present condition of Ireland cannot continue indefinitely; but the people, badly as they are persecuted, will not yield until justice is secured. Lloyd George says England will never allow Ireland to enjoy a republican form of government as it would be a peril to the empire. If he doesn't want a republican Ireland, why does he not treat Ireland same as Canada, Australia or South Africa? It is useless, however, to expect any fairness from a minister who panders to the worst remnant of British aristocracy in order to prolong his reign in power. He is maintained in office at the sacrifice of all principles of justice and is piling up future perils for the empire where he might lay the foundation of security and international amity.

CALL FOR BUSINESS MEN

In a letter from three directors of the Massachusetts Roosevelt club, asking Charles Sumner Bird to become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, attention is called to the fact that this honor has gone to a business man not more than twice in 30 years.

It is a fact that we select a large proportion of our members of the legislature, congressmen and executives from a single class in the community—the lawyers. This is unfortunate.

Many, perhaps most, of the problems connected with running the government of a state are essentially business problems. They relate to a careful oversight over resources and expenditures and the direction and management of men.

That lawyers are more competent to frame laws than laymen may be conceded, but making laws is only a part of the business of conducting the affairs of a state government.

We have heard a great deal about a demand for a business administration on Beacon hill, but unless business men show considerably more inclination than they have in the past to seek public office, it is likely to be a long time before such an administration materializes.

As to Mr. Bird's chances of getting the republican nomination if he should become a candidate—not a single progressive, or former progressive, has had a place of im-

OUR STREET DEFECTS

Not in recent years have the streets of our city been in such deplorable condition as at present. Everywhere except in the smooth paved streets there are breaks and holes which are very severe upon motor vehicles. It may be said that the vast increase in motor traffic is responsible for the great number of cavities in the streets; but many of the thoroughfares on which there is very little of such traffic are fully as bad as the principal thoroughfares where the auto traffic is heaviest. If the street department cannot make any extensive repairs, it should be able, at least, to have repair gangs fill the holes with some kind of grout that would lessen the jounces to motor vehicles passing over these danger spots.

A FALSE ALARM

Right Rev. Bishop Mannix and his party on their way from Australia refused to stand while the band played America. They thought it was "God Save the King," the British national anthem, which is played to the same air. On this flimsy pretext some busybody lodged a complaint at Washington. The Rt. Rev. Bishop lost no time in declaring his respect for the American flag and our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." It should be understood that while "America" is a patriotic selection it is not our national hymn.

The old law of supply and demand seems to work backwards in Lawrence where the dealers are claiming that high prices of ice are due to the fact that fewer people are buying the commodity to cool their beer. "Blame it on prohibition" seems to be their motto, as it is also of some other people.

Some of our Lawrence friends seem to think Lowell will not have quite so much cause for feeling puffed up over being a larger city when they get their proposed new central railroad station. But, then, Lowell may have one, too, some day.

France proposes to have Germany pay her debt of 12,000,000,000 gold francs that will be due the United States in October. This is one of the results that Wilhelm did not calculate upon when he entered upon his "Me and Gott" plan of conquering the world.

Hoover's name is to go before the San Francisco convention because a number of delegates have been "instructed" to vote for him, but his chances of being nominated are about the same as that his British friends will run him as a candidate for the premiership of England.

There is nothing picaresque about Uncle Sam when he spends twenty-one billion dollars in carrying on his government for eleven months, and there are some of us old-fashioned enough to believe that it is worth what it costs.

"A Nidder" was the subject of the salutatory address at the Bartlett training school graduation exercises. That's what most of the young people are likely to find life is before they have become many years older.

Haverhill shoe manufacturers have informed labor union officials that the dead line has been reached in wage increases. The public would also like to know if it has been reached in increasing the prices of shoes.

Not last or least among the possibilities of the San Francisco convention is the one that the nomination lightning may strike pretty close to the Hon. Champ Clark, of the United States.

If any of Lowell's water users are unhappy over the recent increase in water rates, they can find cause for consolation in Woburn's jump to similar charges from $7.50 to $14.

SEEN AND HEARD

How did you like first day of summer yesterday?

Familiar lines seen every day: "Embargo on All Kinds of Freight."

When the present stock of shoes is exhausted in the retail stores will the price to drop to the rock bottom.

That solely rests upon the ability of the shoemakers to remain on their uppers, adds a wag.

Grace Who?

A tired-looking individual entered a downtown church on a Sunday evening. Finding a pew, he made himself comfortable and awaited the sermon. The minister, after the usual formalities, announced that his topic would be "Saved by Grace."

The stranger, yielding to the soothing atmosphere of the house of worship fell asleep almost immediately after the announcement of the sermon subject. Half an hour later he awoke, almost simultaneously with the close of the sermon, and suddenly remembering the topic, whispered to a nearby fellow-worshipper: "Wasn't his subject 'Saved by Grace?'"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Grace who?" was the next question.

"Naturally there was no answer," rebuked Sunday Herald.

Knew Where He Got It

Jinkson was leaving an evening party rather late, and when he went into the hall to put on his hat, he could not find his umbrella. He began to make rather a fuss, and the host came to help him.

"I can't think where it can have gone!" said the latter. "Are you sure you had it when you came here?"

"Quite certain!" replied Jinkson coldly.

"Then perhaps you left it at Hobson's?" suggested the host feeling hurt that the honesty of his house should be questioned, and knowing his guest had come to his house from another party.

"Not at all!" retorted Jinkson. "Why, man, that's where I got it!"—London Answers.

An Old Newspaper

A picture of life in Lowell in the days immediately following the close of the Civil war is furnished by a copy of the Lowell Daily Courier, bearing the date of August 31, 1866, that has been discovered by Peter H. Donohoe in preparing to retire from business in the store that he has occupied at 40 Church street for more than 40 years. The front page of the old newspaper is given up wholly to advertising. In one corner is an "ad" of patent collapsing hoop skirts with a picture of the skirts. Just below is the announcement of Daniel Lawrence & Company, "Only manufacturers of Medford rum." A railroad time-table in another column shows that there were seven trains a day over the railroad between Lowell and Boston. The inside news columns of the paper seem to be principally notable for their lack of news. There is a column story headed "Letter from Provincetown." The editor expresses his opinion of reconstruction policy by saying, "Individually we want Uncle Sam to possess no territory on which his New England boys are not as safe as on the soil where they were born." The police court record shows that two drunks were in court that day. Two-thirds of the last page is given up to advertisements of proprietary medicines.

By G. B. Joynt

(With profound apologies to everybody who ever made up a You Tell'em.)

"You tell 'em Cleo," sighed Antony; "I'm an easy Marc."

And Cleo did, you bet she did, and that's why we have today the inside dope on the Democratic convention.

Cleo picked up her spirit telephone and twisted the handle. "You tell 'em Oujia," said she, "I'm 'board' to death."

"Well," replied the answering spirit, "as matters are now, it's pretty much up in the air. You tell 'em Aviator; I can't see plane."

But the passed-over Aviator made argument in this wise:

"As I see this matter, you want the low down. You tell 'em Carpet; you've got the floor."

The Carpet flapped a corner and rubbed its nap on the edge of the chair.

"You'd better tell 'em Pretzel; I'm all twisted now."

"Surely," thought Egypt's ancient queen, "we'll get the hot stuff now."

Pretzel walked to the plate and then said to the Umpire, "It's a dry subject. I work best with beer and they took it away. You tell 'em Ocean; my tongue's tide."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Evidently a great many mothers would feel more securely in letting their boys go up to the new bath-house if Officer Michael Wrenn was one of the lifeguards instead of going about with a uniform on. He is undoubtedly the leading swimmer on the police force. Many people feel that he has been misplaced in not being made a lifeguard. His service there last year surely entitles him to recognition.

There are at least a dozen stories "breaking" at city hall week after week which cannot be published for one reason or another. Sometimes, their immediate publication would jeopardize the city's interests; at other times, only part of a story is available and a better "yarn" will be obtained by waiting a few days. However, here's a story that cannot be published with names but it's too good to pass up entirely. The rumor is going the rounds of the building that city hall is to be closed June 30 because three young lady clerks in three of the most salient department offices are to be absent on that day. It happens that a brother of each of the young women in question is to be married on that date and, of course, friend sister will have to be present at the ceremony. Seldom has such a queer coincidence come to pass in the municipal building and what makes it even more unusual—each of the young men involved is to take upon himself a bride from out of town. Is it any wonder so many of the lady clerks in the municipal building hold lightly to their jobs when so many Lowell young men go out of the city to get married? What's the matter with our Lowell girls? Or can it be that out-of-town young ladies are coming here to steal our young men?

There was a service of more than usual interest at the First Congregational church Sunday evening. Just inside of the vestibule of the church was a sign visible to all passers-by on the street bidding everybody welcome to a "twilight concert."

The novelty of a "twilight concert" vividly appealed to a number of persons who would not otherwise have entered the church for the large vestry on the first floor was comfortably filled when the time for beginning the exercises arrived.

The plan of the program had evidently been carefully thought out with the idea uppermost of making the concert reverent in tone and expressive of religious feeling. There were numbers by a well-trained male quartet, soprano solos, music on the piano and violin solos. The music chosen was of the best—there was no straining for effect, but every number was rendered faultlessly and in a reverent spirit. It appeared to be just what the audience wanted.

CHURCH CHOIR OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE

Members of the choir of the First Congregational church went to Canobie lake this afternoon for an informal outing, which will include an outdoor sing and basket luncheon. The choir, numbering about 40, will enjoy a vacation from now until September 1.

During the last of July the Boy Scout troop of the church in charge of Scoutmaster Zerk will spend two weeks in camp at Long-Sought-For pond. The Girl Scouts of Troop 5 will occupy the camp during the first two weeks of the month.

RECOUNT OF NEW YORK CENSUS

NEW YORK, June 22.—Dissatisfaction with the government's census figures which showed that New York had gained only 551,265 residents in the last ten years caused the city authorities to start 100 enumerators on a fast recount today in 117 representative districts.

It had been predicted that New York would show a gain of more than one million, putting the total population over the six million mark. Instead the government's total was a mere 1,621,181 and the Borough of Manhattan with 2,284,103 showed an actual decrease of 47,433.

NOTIFICATION DATES

Harding to Receive Delegation July 22, and Coolidge on July 27

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senator Harding will be formally notified of his nomination as the republican presidential candidate July 22 at his home in Marion, Ohio.

Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts will be notified of his nomination by the republican party for vice president July 27 at his Northampton home.

The dates for the two notification ceremonies were decided on yesterday at a conference here in which Senator Harding, National Chairman Hays and a sub-committee of the republican national committee participated.

The conference at its session, which lasted all day and into the early night, also agreed on an executive committee to have general charge of the campaign, but its personnel will not be made public until today in order to permit Chairman Hays to communicate with the proposed members and ascertain whether they will be willing to serve. It was understood, however, that among the members appointed was Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, O., pre-convention campaign manager for Senator Harding.

While the conference was in progress Mr. Hays issued a statement praising both Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge, the vice presidential nominee, as men measuring "up to every requirement of presidential candidates" and informally approving the senator's announced intention of conducting a "front porch" campaign.

"I'm strong for Senator Harding on the front porch campaign plan," Mr. Hays said, adding that Gov. Coolidge held a similar attitude. Such a method, he asserted, "is the only proper way for running a presidential campaign."

Mr. Hays in a conference with newspaper men announced the centre of activity in the conduct of the coming campaign would be Chicago, where he expects to spend most of his time. He said, however, that the New York office would be no less important than it had been in the past. Headquarters also will continue to be maintained, he said in Washington and San Francisco, with a branch office in Denver.

In declining to discuss campaign issues, Mr. Hays said he felt compelled to do so until after Mr. Harding has made his speech accepting the nomination. The chairman said he expected Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention campaign manager, to take even more than an advisory part in the campaign. He intimated that Mr. Daugherty, although not a member of the national committee, would be made a member of several campaign committees.

Prior to his conference with the national committee members, Mr. Harding held conferences with Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, former-Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, a progressive leader; former-Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina and Judge Peter C. Pritchard, who received the vote of the North Carolina delegation in the Chicago convention for the presidential nomination. All pledged their support in the campaign. Senator Smoot paid the nominee a farewell visit before leaving for his home in Utah.

GOING TO PROVIDENCE

Adjutant and Mrs. Robert Klepsik, who have been at the head of Salvation Army work in Lowell for the past nine months, leave tomorrow for Providence, R. I., to take charge of the work being carried on there. As they go, Adjutant and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Haverhill will come to take up the work here. Adjutant Klepsik anticipates his work in Providence with a great deal of pleasure. The field there is much larger and he will be in charge of American and Swedish corps, a slum settlement, the army hotel and its industrial home. He leaves Lowell with the work here on a splendid financial footing as the result of the recent campaign which made new headquarters possible.

SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mrs. Daniel Wood in Exeter street was the scene of a very pretty surprise party on Friday evening last when about 50 friends of Miss Lillian Miller gathered and presented her a traveling bag, on the occasion of her going to Scotland on a visit. The presentation was made by Miss Dorothy Leith. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served.

McCOOMBS RAPS WILSON

President's Manager in 1912 Issues Statement—Calls Wilson Autocrat

CHICAGO, June 22.—William F. McCoombs, chairman of the democratic national committee from 1912 to 1916, and manager of President Wilson's 1912 campaign, issued a statement here last night before leaving for San Francisco attacking what he characterized as the president's autocratic assumption of authority. President Wilson, he said, has no more right to call himself leader of the democratic party, "a conception heretofore never entertained by any American," than has Chief Justice White, former-Speaker Champ Clark or Vice President Thomas R. Marshall.

Mr. McCoombs announced that arrangements had been made to obtain for him a seat in the New York delegation, if he decides to take the floor at San Francisco. The New York delegation, he predicted, will throw its support to Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio after casting a complimentary vote for Gov. Smith. He added that he believed a westerner, possibly from the Pacific slope, will be nominated for vice president.

His statement in part follows: "They tell me that America has pledged its word to Europe and that this word must be redeemed in the process of a national campaign. In my belief America has pledged itself to nothing. One individual speaking as such, permitted Europe to believe that he spoke for a nation, for in the last analysis, he was nothing more than a self-appointed emissary. Nevertheless, America is asked to validate his signature affixed abroad, a signature which apparently was accepted in good faith by all the European peoples as absolute."

"The president negotiates a treaty but the senate may or may not concur by two-thirds majority. In this particular instance there has been no concurrence."

"Other nations may want a League of Nations and it may be that we do. But we do not want to commit ourselves to the League of Nations as it was brought back from Paris. It is an international issue, but it is a highly debatable question as to what importance it should have in a national campaign. Ultimately it is a question for the president and the senate to settle."

There are at least a dozen stories "breaking" at city hall week after week which cannot be published for one reason or another. Sometimes, their immediate publication would jeopardize the city's interests; at other times, only part of a story is available and a better "yarn" will be obtained by waiting a few days. Plaited Skirts Are Still The Favorites of Fashion

NEW YORK, June 22.—Plaited skirts, blouses and over-blouses are to be reckoned with, and practically no material is exempt.

In the illustration is shown a three-piece costume that Regenia Wallace wears in "The Outfit Board." It is all in dull green-gold tone. The skirt and blouse are of tulle and the blouse of chiffon cloth. A dark green band with gold trim in it and another of dark brown silk provide the trimming. The costume is as attractive as it is practical.

The same model can also be re-

WARNING

In keeping your health regular do not become addicted to weakening purgatives or mineral laxatives. But try KODOLAX, safe, gentle, wholesome. Best and most effective. Obtainable at drug stores, everywhere. KODOLAX is a relief for many ailments, including constipation, headache, dizziness, indigestion, nervousness, dyspepsia, flatulence, obesity, mental and physical distress.

CLEANED THE POISONS FROM HIS SYSTEM

Somerville, Mass. A well-known citizen of this city, who has suffered in the past, writes the following to Dr. J. F. True & Co.:

"I have taken all kinds of laxatives, but none of it cleaned the poison from my system as your Elixir will know what to use hereafter considering the effects it had on me, as I feel splendid now—my system needed a real cleaning which only your Elixir gave—other physicians I have taken merely passed through my bowels." (Name on request.)

Dr. True's Elixir has relieved thousands of sufferers during the last 25 years. Imagine a prescription actually lasting so long—doctors come and doctors go, but Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which was given the world by Dr. True, is as old, the best friend to be found in your medicine closet.

Symptoms of Worms: Swollen upper lip, draughted stomach, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of lecher, listless, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

No Harmful Drugs—recommended by Physicians. AT ALL DEALERS. Dr. J. F. True & Co., Auburn, Me.

INVESTIGATE KILLING OF 9 MEN AT MATEWAN

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., June 22.—Judge James Damron of the Mingo county court, empaneled a special grand jury here late yesterday, to investigate the shooting at Matewan, W. Va., on May 19, in which Mayor C. C. Testerman of that village, two other residents and seven men of a private detective agency were killed and half a dozen other persons wounded.

Under the judge's instructions, the jury will investigate every phase of the shooting including the evasion of the miners, murder and conspiracy to murder, alleged offer of bribes and robbery of the bodies of the detectives.

It was announced yesterday that 200 witnesses will appear before the jury. They will be summoned in relays of 19 each day.

"Mother" Jones, nationally known in the labor movement, was at Matewan yesterday. She addressed a meeting of miners here last night.

MR. RAZUTSKY WAS VERY WELL "HEELED"

LONDON, June 22.—The next time T. Razutsky wants to hide his money he'll swallow it and then be afraid they'll use a stomach pump to take it from him. Razutsky is a Pole and was on his way from America to Dantzic when taken ill and removed to an infirmary here. He only had a few shillings in English money, but the nurses found $220 in gold pieces in his clothing and then put x-rays to his boots and discovered $250 more in American gold.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Discussion

The inquiries and letters coming in to the office of the Middlesex county bureau indicate there will be a very large attendance at the meeting which will be held under the auspices of the Middlesex county bureau and the Nashoba Fruit Producers' association at West Acton on June 24 at 9.30 a. m.

These two organizations have realized for some time that housewives throughout this section of the state were eager for help in regard to the problem of canning and preserving this season. The scarcity and high price of sugar makes it necessary for them to use different methods than they have formerly employed in saving the abundant supply of summer fruit for winter use.

In order to meet this demand, Professor W. W. Chenoweth, professor of horticultural manufactures of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Massachusetts, has been secured for an all day meeting to be held at G. A. R. hall, West Acton, Thursday, June 24th at 9.30 a. m. Professor Chenoweth has given the subject of the function of sugar in the preservation of food a great deal of study. In his laboratory the newest methods have been tried out and the best of these will be presented at the West Acton meeting.

Nearly everyone who attends the meeting will plan to bring a basket lunch and spend the day for the entire program is too good to miss.

The Program

9.30—10 a. m. Lecture and discussion. Will include the following subjects: The real function of sugar in the preservation of fruit. Preserving fruit and jellies without sugar. Preservation of fruit juices.

10—11 a. m. Demonstration. Making of jellies and preservation of fruit juices.

11—12 a. m. Demonstration. Making of jams.

1—1.30 p. m. Lecture and discussion. The preservation of vegetables.

1.30—2.30 p. m. Demonstration. Canning of fruits.

2.30—3.30 p. m. Demonstration. Making of fruit butters.

3.30—4 p. m. Open forum. Led by Professor Chenoweth.

NEGRO LYNCHED

Put to Death for Girl's Murder at Rincon, Ga.

SAVANNAH, June 22.—Philip Gallthers, a negro, was lynched near Rincon, Ga., yesterday, after he confessed to the murder of Miss Anza Jaudon, 17 years old, last week. Gallthers was arrested yesterday near Siltson, Ga., on information furnished by another negro.

The home guard of Savannah was ordered to Rincon to prevent the lynching, but arrived too late.

Gallthers first was chained to a tree and oil poured on his clothing, but when an effort was made to apply a torch the negro broke the chain.

Some one in the crowd of several hundred gathered to witness the lynching fired and this proved the signal for a fusillade.

When the negro fell dead scores of men rushed forward to get parts of his body or his clothing as souvenirs.

One of the shots fired at the negro went wild and struck a spectator in the leg.

No arrests in connection with the lynching had been made late yesterday.

TAR NOTE PUZZLES WOMAN AND POLICE

TOLEDO, June 22.—Mrs. L. W. Davis can't understand why a note smeared with tar and reading "Mrs. Davis be-have or you'll get this" should have been pinned to her door here. The police are trying to find out.

MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

Young Man Struck Down While Picking Berries

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., June 22.—Albert Blowers, 24 years of age, is in a hospital here with only a bare chance for his life as a result of being shot by an unknown assailant. Blowers, with his cousin, Miss Hattie Williams, had just entered a field on the outskirts of the city for the purpose of picking strawberries, when he suddenly fell, exclaiming, "I think I'm hurt."

He was found to have been wounded in the back by a charge of buckshot, evidently fired at close range.

Miss Williams says she did not hear the shot fired, but "heard a whirr in the air." Blowers was taken to a house nearby and from there to the hospital. No clue has yet been found to clear up the affair.

KILLS HIMSELF IN POLICE STATION

WATERBURY, Conn., June 22.—Arthur Proulx, 27 years old, of Biddeford, Me., committed suicide at the local police headquarters yesterday following a shooting in which Police Inspector John F. Donahue was seriously injured.

The latter received his wound in an attempt to protect Georgiana Rheume, also of Biddeford, and the pretty companion of Proulx, alleged by him to be his wife. Following his attack upon the inspector, Proulx missed in an attempt to shoot the woman and with a third bullet shot himself in the head.

The shooting and suicide came as a sensational climax after an all-day investigation of Proulx's complaint that Miss Rheume had robbed him of $650.

BATH ROOM CHAT MAY AFFECT SUIT

SPOKANE, June 22.—What Paark

heard in the bath room may change the complexion of Mrs. Margaret West-erfield's breach of promise suit of $25,000 against N. P. Nelson. Pearl Naffton said in court she heard Mrs. Westerfield in the room next to her bath room, talking about Nelson and that she said he was an "old, gray-headed, blankety-blank-blank."

SEEN TWO TROUSER LEGS ANYWHERE?

SEATTLE, June 22.—The police are looking for A. Zolla's trousers' legs. Zolla left the legs on the end of the pants over the end of his bed. In the dead of night somebody flicked 'em. There was $151 tucked under the tucks of the right hand foot of the trousers.

NO BOUTS HERE THIS WEEK

In order not to conflict with the Lawrence bouts postponed from last Saturday until next Saturday, the directors of the Crescent A. A. who had planned to run an out-door show here this week, have changed their plans. No bouts will be held in Lowell Saturday.

The action of the local men will meet with the approval of all fans. It is realized that Promoter Cuddy of Lawrence is under a tremendous expense and the postponement was the only move possible in order to get a "break." Therefore it was decided to give him a clear field this week.

Joe Levy, manager of Jack Lawler, who is booked to meet Kloby in Cuddy's circus arena on Saturday, is so confident that the Omaha boy has a good chance to win that he is seeking bouts in Boston with Freddie Jackson, Dundee, Killane and Valger. Lawler has nothing to fear from these chaps, and the kicking he will hand Kloby on Saturday will make him big enough card to prevent them from backing away. As a matter of fact, Lawler already has wins over Valger and Dundee and held Killane and Jackson to draws.

Carney Beats Donley
NEW BEDFORD, June 22.—After battering Billy Carney for three rounds, Mickey Donley of Newark, N. J., was floored in the fourth by a hard right-hand punch to the jaw. He took the count of nine twice in this round. Carney established a commanding lead for the remainder of the fight.

Chaney Outpoints Murray
JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 22.—Young Chaney, the Baltimore bantamweight, outpointed John Murray of New York in a 12-round bout here last night. Chaney weighed 121 pounds and Murray 125 1/2.

Although Murray scored a clean knockdown in the fifth with a short right to the jaw, causing Chaney to take a count of five, the men fought on even terms up to the seventh. In the eighth round, Chaney took the lead and outpointed Murray for the remainder of the contest. Murray spoiled his good work in the early rounds by frequent holding.

FOUR AMERICANS WIN MATCHES

WIMBLETON, Eng. June 22—All four Americans who played in the opening matches for the British lawn tennis championship defeated their opponents yesterday and were in no way extended during the contests. The match between C. S. Garland of Pittsburgh and O. G. N. Turnbull proved the most attractive event of the day.

With good weather for the opening of the championships a crowd of about 5000 turned out, which is regarded as good for any opening round. The American colony was well represented and the American players had a most appreciative gallery.

A battle royal is anticipated tomorrow when William M. Johnson meets J. C. Parke, who is regarded among the strongest English players entered in the present tournament.

R. Norris Williams, 2nd, of Boston, United States, champion in 1914 and 1915, also won his initial match, defeating N. Field, an English provincial player, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, the American star, won his first match this afternoon, defeating P. Fussell, a medium class English player, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

C. S. Garland of Pittsburgh, defeated the English player, O. G. N. Turnbull, by a score of 7-5, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2.

GREAT INTEREST IN OLYMPIC TRY-OUTS

George V. Brown, Boston Athletic association secretary, writes to friends in this city, saying that the Olympic tryouts to be held on the Harvard stadium track on June 27 will bring to the attention of the country's running and jumping talent into competition. It will be distinctly a meet for top-notchers with only the best of the country's athletes in line. The tryouts will be held on Thursday of this week in New Orleans, San Francisco, Chicago and Philadelphia on the program.

Lowell people who saw the try-outs in the stadium a few years back, when Marc Wright of Dartmouth soared to the height of 12 feet 4 inches in the pole vault for a new world record, were unanimous in saying that no better set of games ever had been held. The class of this year's meet is just as high, if not higher, and a huge crowd will witness it.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Essex and White Stars will meet tonight in a twilight game on the North Common at 6:30 o'clock. For the Essex the battery will be Harrington and Lescard.

The Cardinals will play the St. Peter's SS on the South Common at 6:15 p. m. today.

WILL BUILD DANCE HALL
Another step in the development of the area along the Merrimack river, bank on the Pawtucket boulevard as an amusement centre was taken today when the building inspector at city hall issued a permit to Louis T. Beckett and Theodore Little for the erection of a dance hall on the north side of the boulevard between Middlesex and Delaware avenues. The building will measure 100 by 50 feet and its erection will involve an estimated expenditure of $5000.

TROOPS ARE IN CONTROL

Waterbury, Conn., Quiet Today Following Strike Riots There Yesterday

WATERBURY, Ct., June 22.—Waterbury was outwardly quiet today following strike riots yesterday which resulted in the death of one striker, serious injury to two police officers and minor injuries to scores of others. More than 300 state and city guardsmen, fully armed, were stationed at strategic points throughout the manufacturing district ready for instant duty in case of a recurrence of the trouble, and the battalions at Hartford, Meriden, and New Haven were being held in readiness for service. A strong guard was thrown about the plant of the Scovill Mfg. Co. on Bridge street, where the police and city guard fought with crowds of strikers and their sympathizers yesterday.

The strike of unskilled workers and machinists has been in progress here several weeks. More than 14,000 are involved according to union estimates.

Permit Married Men to Work
Luigi Scallman, who is president of the New England Workers association, the body of unskilled workers, today issued a notice to the strikers that married men would be permitted to return to work while single men must remain out.

This action on the part of the one man who has had much authority over the unskilled strikers is expected to decrease the number of unemployed by many hundreds. It may have no immediate effect, however, on the strike of the machinists in the factories. The latter are now receiving strike benefits and claim to be able to stay out indefinitely.

GOV. COOLIDGE GOES TO MAINE

BOSTON, June 22.—Governor Coolidge went to Maine today. He left this morning for Augusta, where he is to spend the night as the guest of Governor Milliken. Tomorrow he will go to Lewiston to attend the commencement exercises at Bates college. He will return to Boston tomorrow evening.

Will Present McAdoo's Name

prominently in the party's quadrennial gathering next week, have reached the convention city.

Direct developments of the day were confined to physical preparation on the municipal auditorium for the convention, and the work was well advanced but much discussion was in progress as to elements that would be involved in shaping the party platform and there was strikingly little talk about candidates.

"Wet" and "Dry" Talk

Out of the talk of the day came an increasing rumble of "wet" and "dry" maneuvers which clearly indicated that leaders now look forward to a fight on the floor of the convention over efforts to make the democratic platform advocate modifications of the prohibition enforcement law through a "beer" plank.

The Oriental Problem

The league of nations issue did not fill a prominent place in talk among the leaders today, but possibility of a struggle over Japanese exclusion was suggested after Governor Stephens' letter to Sec. Colby, declaring the situation serious in California, had been read, coupled as it was with the statement of Senator Phelan of this state that the democrats should deal with the oriental problem in framing the platform, but comment on this aspect of the situation did not indicate that it was occupying an important place in the minds of leaders now on the ground.

Posters Booming Palmer

Posters urging the claims of Attorney General Palmer began to appear after headquarters for his boom had been established, and workers in behalf of Gov. Cox of Ohio and other aspirants are beginning to arrive.

Some of the men who will have a hand in shaping the party's declaration of principles, however, talked much privately of a popular demand that the doctrine of states' rights should apply to beer restrictions.

Taken in connection with the announced purpose of W. J. Bryan to resist any weakening of prohibition enforcement measures, the talk brought to the surface the feeling of prominent democrats already here that a fierce battle on the point in the resolutions committee was not to be avoided.

The name of Senator Walsh of Montana was injected into the discussion yesterday of the probable permanent chairman of the convention. The Montana senator was mentioned by a number of leaders in a tentative way, although others said that they believed Secretary Colby of the state department would be the man urged by administration forces, despite his statement that he was not a candidate for the post.

McAdoo Makes Denial

NEW YORK, June 22.—William G. McAdoo, in a statement here last night, declared his recent announcement that he would not present his name to be presented to the San Francisco convention as a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, had no relation to the political interview with President Wilson published the day before. He declared he knew nothing of the interview until he saw it in print and that the president knew nothing of his withdrawal until after notice of it had appeared in the newspapers.

Wilson's Nomination Impossible

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson's nomination for a third term was declared to be an impossibility because of the condition of the president's health. In an interview given out by Joubert Shouse, third assistant secretary of the United States treasury.

With Hay State Delegates

CHICAGO, June 22.—As the Massachusetts delegates speed westward there has been a little more political talk than on the first day. There has been no organization or caucus held, because the friends of Senator Walsh are in the majority, and they have so far decided to wait until San Francisco is reached.

At Detroit the train sections were united and Richard H. Long of Framingham joined the party, while Congressman Phelan left the train on business, but promised to meet the delegation later.

Mr. Long is very much anti-Wilson. He is ready to vote for a League of Nations with reservations, but would rather follow Bryan than the president.

Attorney William G. McKeechle of Springfield, defender of Jennie Zimmerman, believes that the League of Nations pact should be adopted as it stands. He says that the various reservations proposed do not help it and that the Lodge reservations would emasculate it. He does not join in any condemnation of the president, as he says such a course would hurt the party and would be just what the republicans want the democrats to do.

Attorney Mitchell Sullivan of Salem favors a League of Nations with the reservations proposed by Sen. Walsh, but he also does not believe in condemning the president.

Wilson in Direct Touch

WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Wilson plans to keep in direct touch with the leaders at the convention by means of the long distance telephone. Secretary Tumulty, acting for the president, talked with Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee on the telephone for some time yesterday.

Night Session Favored

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A night session may follow the first session of the democratic national convention which opens here next Monday, Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, announced yesterday.

There was a possibility of abandoning the requirement for a two-thirds majority in the convention to nominate a candidate and of the unit rule by which a state's ballots are voted en bloc. Mr. Cummings said the two-thirds majority was an "ancient party custom" that could be overturned only by specific affirmative vote. The unit rule depends upon the instructions given each state delegation.

The national committee's meetings will be open "to begin with at least." Mr. Cummings said, although the body may vote to go into executive session at any time.

Colby Endorses League

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Raidbridge Colby, secretary of state, on leaving Washington last night for the democratic national convention where he will act as one of President Wilson's spokesmen, declared he favored endorsement by the convention of the League of Nations, "certainly without any reservations that are nullifying."

Gov. Milliken is Defeated

was defeated by Governor Milliken in the primaries four years ago, by a little more than 8,000 votes. He rolled up an overwhelming vote in the northern and eastern counties, carrying his home county, Penobscot, by about 3,000 over Gov. Milliken, who ran second there, and his home city, Bangor, by 575 votes over Milliken.

Mr. Deering was similarly strong at the southern end of the state. He carried his home city of Saco by 574 over Milliken and his home county of York by about 3200 over Milliken. Parkhurst carried 11 counties and 7 cities; and Milliken one county and three cities.

The result of the contest between six candidates for the republican nomination for congress in the first district, was in doubt early today. With one precinct, comprising the town of Acton, missing, Carroll L.

Deede of Portland was leading Mayor Charles B. Clark of Portland by 45 votes. The vote was Deede, 3,472; Clark 3,426; Howard Davies of Yarmouth 2,544; Frank D. Marshall of Portland 1,022; Horace Mitchell of Kittery 2,354; Joseph W. Simpson of York 2,534.

The polls did not close until 9 p. m. Eastern standard time, as several of the cities are operating on daylight saving time. This made the returns as received from those places very late. The returns that came in late included those from members of the Third Maine Infantry in training at Camp Devens, Mass. The soldiers cast a total of only 135 votes for governor and 41 for congressman in the first district.

Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., John A. Peters and Ira G. Hershey, all republicans, were nominated without opposition. On the democratic ticket, there were no contests for the principal nominations. The democratic nominee for governor is Bertrand G. McIntyre of Norway, who opposed Gov. Milliken in the election two years ago. The state election will be held on September 12.

Complete and partially revised unofficial returns reduced Deede's lead to 29 over Clark in the congressional contest. The vote stood as follows: Deede 5,475, Clark 3,443, Davies 2,538, Marshall 1,014, Mitchell 2,351, Simpson 2,530.

Gov. Milliken Talks

Governor Milliken today said he accepted the result contentedly when informed that on the face of press returns of yesterday's primaries from all except less than a hundred small towns and plantations, Frederick H. Parkhurst had been nominated as the republican candidate for governor.

Governor Milliken said: "I accept the result contentedly, congratulate the winner, and in my own behalf and those associated with me thank those republicans who without any campaign on my part expressed at the polls their approval of our management of the business affairs of the state.

"I am anxious for the triumph of republican principles in this critical year and to that end will continue to devote myself unreservedly to the duties of my office in order to turn over the affairs of the state to my successor in the best possible condition."

Judge Deering's Statement

BIDDEFORD, Me., June 22.—In a statement issued from his office in this city today, Judge John Percy Deering, defeated candidate for the republican nomination for governor, laid his defeat to defection of a former Milliken following which at the last moment deserted him to return to the standard of the governor fearing the nomination of Parkhurst. Judge Deering pledges his full strength to Colonel Parkhurst in the September elections and announces that he will be a candidate for governor at the next election. The statement was:

"I sincerely thank all the people in the state of Maine who voted for me in the recent primary, especially those who stood by me so loyally. In six months I created organizations and carried on a campaign which thoroughly defeated the administration republicans under Governor Milliken and almost overwhelmed the same political machine headed by Colonel Parkhurst. The Milliken men, who had been coming to me during the latter part of the campaign, became panic stricken at the last moment, fearing the nomination of Colonel Parkhurst, and returned to Governor Milliken, thereby nominating the one whom they did not want."

"I shall keep my organization together as I shall be a candidate for governor in the next contest, but I pledge my entire strength to Colonel Parkhurst in the September election."

MURDERED AND ROBBED

by Wife in New Home—
$6000 Missing

NEW YORK, June 22.—Manuel Gabin, proprietor of three rooming houses and a restaurant in the Greenwich village Spanish colony, was slain yesterday by a robber, who stole money and jewelry valued at about $6000.

The murder was committed in an apartment which Mr. Gabin and his wife were to have occupied as their home the latter part of the week.

Mr. Gabin was an impersonator in vaudeville before he entered the restaurant business two years ago. He was well known in Spanish circles and had particularly endeared himself to his countrymen in Greenwich village by his magnanimity. He was ever ready to lend a helping hand and had loaned sums at various times to persons in distress, which friends said aggregated more than $10,000. It was his habit always to carry large sums of money. The building in which the murder occurred had been leased recently by Mr. Gabin. It was his intention to open a Spanish cabaret on the ground floor.

The second floor had been renovated and furnished as a home for himself and his wife, Mrs. Fannie Gabin. It was in the bedroom of this apartment that the body was found. The upper floors of the building, which were to have been remodeled into furnished rooms, are occupied by families.

When Mr. Gabin did not return home yesterday morning after closing his restaurant at 733 Washington street, Mrs. Gabin began to worry and at daybreak she went to the restaurant. Employees told Mrs. Gabin her husband had left in the company of another man at 1.30 o'clock. None of them knew the man other than by the name of "Charlie."

Unable to learn her husband's whereabouts, although she had telephoned a number of friends, Mrs. Gabin went to the new apartment at 770 Washington street, for which she had a key. She walked into the bedroom and found the partly clothed body of her husband lying across the bed. Salvatore Martinez, a tenant on the floor above, heard Mrs. Gabin's screams and summoned a policeman. An ambulance surgeon said Gabin had been shot through the heart several hours before.

Detectives Stevin and Campbell of the Charles street station and John R. Donahy, assistant district attorney, hurried to the house and questioned Mrs. Gabin, the tenants of the building and employees of the restaurant. Mrs. Martinez told the detectives of having heard a noise during the night, which sounded as though someone had banged a door. The apartment was searched thoroughly, but no weapon could be found. The bed bore evidence, the detectives say, that more than one person had slept in it.

Mrs. Gabin found her husband's two diamond rings and his stickpin were missing. One of these rings cost $2000, she said, and the other two pieces were valued at $1000. An examination of the dead man's clothing disclosed no money, although Mr. Gabin said her husband had nearly $3000 on his person when she saw him the night before.

The detectives believe the murderer was a man whom Mr. Gabin knew, well and probably had invited to see his new apartment. The two men are thought to have retired and during the night the missing man, it is the theory of the police, arose and shot Gabin while he slept.

GIRL GIVES LIFE

FOR LAME CROW

POULNEY, Vt., June 22.—Agnes Tobin, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tobin, was drowned yesterday in the Herkier Quarry while trying to rescue a lame crow from a ledge on the bank of the quarry. The pit is over 75 feet deep and is filled with water. The quarry not having been operated in 30 years.

She had been carrying with her little brother and sister when they discovered a crow hobbling about with a broken leg. She attempted to reach it from a ledge which gave way.

She had presence of mind to call to her brother to throw in a log, but she was unable to grasp it when she came to the surface twice, and finally sank. It was two hours before her body was recovered.

CUT PRIZE MONEY

FOR STATE FAIRS

The amount of prize money to be distributed at agricultural fairs and cattle shows next fall has been cut on account of heavy war taxes, the department of agriculture announced yesterday.

The appropriation for prizes, which last year totaled $35,000, will this year be cut to $25,000. The department hopes through publicity to secure the usual number of exhibitors, appealing to the farmers not to slacken their activity.

AUTO "RIGHT OF WAY" LAW, IN EFFECT JUNE 23, EXPLAINED

BY STATE REGISTER

The new auto law, more sharply defining the "right of way" at intersection of streets, will go into effect next Tuesday, June 23. Printed copies of the law and a diagram showing two automobiles at the intersection of two streets, with an explanation of which car has the right of way, have been sent out by State Register Frank A. Goodwin.

A note appended by the register reads:

"It is suggested by the register that operators get into the habit of observing the requirement of the law before it goes into effect." He says the law "will doubtless reduce the number of accidents at crossings."

BIG DAY AT HARVARD

of Brass Band—Exercises
at Stadium

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 22.—Seniors of Harvard university, awakened early to the duties and delights of class day by the blaring of a brass band which paraded the college yard, held their formal exercises in Sanders Theatre today. They were joined in the livelier features of the program by members of returning classes, celebrating their reunions in various happy moods. At the theatre Slater Washburn of Worcester delivered the class oration, a serious effort, and Paul Rice Doolin of St. Albans, Vt., recited his class ode, which was subsequently sung by class to the tune of "Fair Harvard."

For the stadium exercises of the afternoon the graduates assembled early. With them were members of their families and those of the seniors, prepared with ammunition for the spirited conflict which always follows the delivery of the Ivy oration, a witty recitation of the class history. The Ivy orator this year was Mr. Edward Scott of Lansdowne, Pa. The usual spreads and dances at clubs and fraternity houses were arranged.

An important meeting of the executive committee of St. Joseph's college alumni will be held this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the college hall in Merrimack street for the purpose of making arrangements for the biennial reunion, which will be held this year.

According to present arrangements it is proposed to hold the annual outing some time in August and the banquet in connection with the biennial reunion later in the fall. The executive committee of the alumni is composed of the following: Tancred L. Blanchette, president; Napoleon Milot, vice president; Arthur H. Giroux, secretary; Dewey G. Archambault, assistant secretary; Ernest L'Heureux, treasurer; Arthur Brunelle, Nephthalie Letendre, Adolphe Leguin, Louis Renaud and Ernest Gagne, directors.

OUTING IN TYNGSBORO

The picnic of the Lowell General Hospital Aid association was held today at the camp of Mrs. Edward B. Carney in Tyngsboro. All the members planning to take the trip provided themselves with basket lunches, boarded the electric car at 10 o'clock and rode to the Vesper Country club, where automobiles will be waiting to carry them through the woodland roads to the camp. Mrs. Larkin T. Trull of Fairmount street, assisted by an able committee, was in charge of the arrangements.

ALTERATION PERMIT

The Federal Shoe company has been granted a permit by the inspector of buildings to make alterations on the first floor of its plant in Dix street. The plans contemplate the installation of a new floor. Robinson & Robinson are to do the work and the estimated cost is $400.

ADOPTS OILING ORDER

Sprinkle Certain Streets

An order authorizing the oiling of streets in various sections of the city during the present season was adopted by the municipal council this morning at its regular weekly session. The streets number more than a hundred.

Otherwise, the meeting was of a purely routine nature.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.10 by Commissioner George H. Marchand who presided in the absence of Mayor Thompson. Commissioner Salmon was also absent, attending a convention in Montreal.

A hearing was held on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for two pole locations in Varnum street and the matter was referred to Commissioner Murphy and Marchand.

The petition of Edward Boucher for permission to maintain a garage at Avon street and Fifth avenue was opposed by Mrs. R. P. Evison. Referred to Commissioner Salmon.

Similar action was taken on the petitions of James B. O'Malley for a garage at 31 West Bowers street, Hamilton Marchand for gasoline at 710 Aiken st. and Albert S. Parks, garage, 23 Riverside street.

The petition of Vincent Lepori for a sewer in Newhall street was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

The petition of the Sawyer Carriage company for a garage and gasoline at 50 Stackpole street was referred to Commissioner Salmon.

The claim of Ross Scully for personal injuries alleged to have been caused by a defective sidewalk was referred to the law department.

The petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for one pole in Woodcock street was referred for a hearing July 5.

Commissioner Murphy reported favorably on the petition of James MacLaughlin for a sidewalk at 212 Stackpole street and the accompanying order was adopted.

An order introduced by Commissioner Murphy for the oiling of a large number of streets in various sections of the city during the municipal year of 1920 and charging the expense to the abutters, was adopted.

Commissioners Murphy and Marchand reported favorably on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation to lay and maintain underground conduits in West Adams, Wilder and Marginal streets and the order was adopted.

A favorable report was also received on the petition of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. for two poles in Gold street, west of School street, and the accompanying order was adopted.

Several bills contracted for the Memorial day observance were approved and the city auditor was instructed to issue a warrant upon the city treasurer for their payment.

Adjourned at 10.30 until Tuesday at 10 a. m.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place at Notre Dame de Lourdes church yesterday morning when Mr. Edward Chevalier and Miss Yvonne Clement, two well known young people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. J. B. A. Barrette, O.M.I. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the Notre Dame de Lourdes' sodality choir, of which the bride was a member. At the offertory Miss Josephine Welcome sang Gounod's "Ave Maria," while after the elevation Miss Emilie Gaudette rendered an "O Salutaris." Mrs. Reek also sang an appropriate hymn at the close of the mass, Miss Bella Lavigne presiding at the organ. The bride was attired in white georgette with veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Elizabeth Toner, who wore pink georgette with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Paul Chevalier. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold brooch, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. The groom's remembrance to the bride was $50 in gold. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Victor Clement, 121 Branch street, where a wedding breakfast was served. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Chevalier, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, were tendered a reception in Highland hall, and in the latter part of the evening they left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to the various beaches along the North shore. Upon their return they will make their home at 121 Branch street. Attending the festivities were guests from Lawrence, Stoneham, New Haven, Conn., Montreal and Marlboro.

McLaughlin—Doherty

Mr. Harry McLaughlin and Miss Mary Doherty were married this morning at St. Peter's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Francis Shea. The bride wore white georgette and picture hat to match and carried pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Doherty, who wore pink georgette with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Bernard Doherty, a brother of the bride. At the close of the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anne Doherty, 10 Madison street, where the couple will make their home after an extended wedding trip.

Nadeau—Crevier

The marriage of Mr. Joseph Alfred Nadeau and Miss Sylvia Crevier took place yesterday, at St. Louis church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. F. X. Gauthier. The bride wore crepe georgette and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her father, Mr. Gekon Crevier, while the groom's witness was his father, Mr. Thomas Nadeau. After the ceremony, a wedding dia-ner was served at the home of the bride, 802 West Sixth street, and in the evening a reception was held at the home of the groom, 522 Lakeview avenue. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau in the receiving line at the reception, were Mr. Arthur Crevier and Miss Rose Contois, and Mr. Omer Crevier and Miss Bertha Nadeau. Present at the festivities were guests from Lynn, Boston, Chicopee and Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Nadeau, who received numerous wedding gifts, left in the evening on a honeymoon trip to New Hampshire, Boston and Lynn, and upon their return after July 1, they will be at home to their friends at 755 Lakeview avenue.

Boucher—Lowrey

Mr. Joseph Wilfrid Boucher and Miss Anna Lowrey, two well known young people of Centralville, were united in the bonds of matrimony yesterday, the ceremony being performed at St. Louis church by Rev. Felix Tessier. The bride was attired in white georgette with veil and carried bridal roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel Lowrey, a sister of the bride, while the best man was Mr. Leon Boucher, a brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the best man was a gold signet ring, while the bride's favor to the bridesmaid was a cameo pendant. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 110 West Sixth street and present were guests from Boston, Providence and New York. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in this city.

New Railroad Strike Spreads

Continued

In Jersey City to consider plans for combating a possible walk-out. Railway managers and union leaders pointed out that the original strike is still in force here and that the present yard employees are not members of the union.

Reports Exaggerated

NEW YORK, June 22.—Reports that 4000 men are out in the Syracuse divisions of the New York Central and the Lackawanna are exaggerated. An official of the New York Central said today.

Latest accounts gave the number of Syracuse strikers on each road as four train crews or about 80 men altogether.

No Change at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., June 22.—The railroad strike in the Baltimore district was virtually unchanged today. An official of the Pennsylvania lines estimated that between 35 and 40 per cent of their yardmen were back at work while the B. & O. reported that 60 per cent of their men were still out. C. W. Galloway, vice-president of the B. & O. in charge of operations, said that as far as that road was concerned the situation was unchanged over yesterday.

Mr. Galloway today issued an ultimatum similar to that of the Pennsylvania railroad, under which the Baltimore and Ohio men would be "considered out of the service" unless they report back before a certain hour.

There has been no interference with the passenger service of either road, it was stated, and the roads have been able to handle foodstuffs without restriction. They also have kept live stock and mail moving, the latter chiefly for the railroads themselves.

Extent Not Apparent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The extent of the strike of switchmen in the man, 11 an hour. Yard engineers, $1.50; yard conductors, $1.10; through freight engineers, $1.50; firemen from 55c to $1.35; freight conductors, $1.15; freight brakemen, 55c; local freight conductors, $1.25; local freight brakemen, $1.05; passenger engineer, $2 a day; firemen, $7.00; conductors, $6.00; baggage men, $5.50; brakemen, $6.00.

Little Change at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Little change was noted in the railroad yardmen's strike here early today. Both sides continued to make contradictory claims as to the number of men out and the effect the strike has had on the movement of freight.

Strike leaders declare nearly four thousand men of the three railroads, the Pennsylvania, Reading, and Baltimore & Ohio, are idle and that freight traffic, especially in the Pennsylvania and Reading yards is virtually at a standstill. Embargoes on all except perishable freight and coal for public utilities are in effect on all three roads and the Reading admits that its freight service in and around Philadelphia has been seriously affected. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, however, declare all their yards are operating nearly 100 per cent normal.

In a statement last night the Pennsylvania said that 1161 of its yard employees were out, but that there was no freight congestion in their yards, due to the better organization of volunteer crews; officials of the Reading claimed that only 400 men had quit work on its lines, while the B. & O. reported "a negligible number out."

Several nearby towns reported accessions to the ranks of the strikers today, including several freight handlers at Norristown. Strike leaders declared that a general walkout would result on Friday unless the United States labor board hands down a decision which is satisfactory to the men.

Government Watches Strike

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Strikes of railroad employees which began several days ago in Philadelphia and Baltimore and since have spread to other eastern railroad centers are being watched closely by government officials. So far as could be learned today no steps to combat the spreading epidemic of walk-outs had been decided on by any government agency, officials generally relying upon the recognized union heads to bring about the return of the strikers.

W. N. Deak, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has been giving the situation his attention for several days and unless today's reports showed a change for the better, he planned to call at the White House to lay the situation before officials there.

Report Strike Checked

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The railroad strike apparently has been checked in this city, although strike leaders say a big walkout will come on Friday. Railroad officials declared some of the strikers returned to their posts today and that there was a slight improvement in movement of freight. Gov. Spruiell today discussed the situation with officials of the Pennsylvania department of labor who are trying to settle the strike through mediation. It was reported the governor contemplated sending a request to the railroad labor board at Washington asking that a decision be reached immediately on the demands for increased wages.

Extent Not Apparent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The extent of the strike of switchmen in the local yards was not definitely apparent today. The effect, however, is the placing of an embargo on all outgoing freight from these yards. Nineteen switchmen in one shift did not report. Railroad officers said they had no demands presented them. The movement of passenger trains is not impeded.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Appeals Taken by Autoists

Other Cases

One month in the house of correction and a $10 fine for drunkenness were imposed upon George H. O'Brien of Boston, the driver of the automobile which ran over the river embankment yesterday afternoon at Tyngsboro, thus endangering his own life and those of the other three occupants of the car. Two charges, one for drunkenness and the other for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, were preferred against O'Brien, while a drunkenness complaint, for which he was fined $10, was entered against John Mylen, a machinist of Boston, who was also in the auto. The other two men, said to be members of the Boston police department, who were on their way to New Hampshire for their vacation, were released with no complaint. O'Brien entered an appeal from the sentence and was held in $400 bonds for the superior court.

Officer Holt of Tyngsboro and a resident near where the accident occurred, both of whom escorted the men to the local police station yesterday afternoon, appeared as witnesses.

Other Autoists Fined

Frank D. Green, of East Chelmsford, was arrested last night about 10 o'clock on Gorham street near the city line for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Officers Connors and Quinn testified that Green had a slight accident with a motorcycle to which was attached a side-car containing a woman and a baby. Though the machine or occupants were unharmed, the woman became hysterical. The defendant appeared from the decision of one month to the house of correction and a $10 fine for drunkenness.

John Karagialis was arrested recently by motorcycle Officer Murphy on Rogers street for driving his automobile so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. The officer testified that he had to put his machine up to 40 miles an hour to catch his man and chase him from Oakland square to the Wamsit bridge. He was fined $25.

Nathan Greenhouse was charged with violating an ordinance of the city of Lowell on June 9 by allowing his machine to stand in the restricted zone of Central street for one hour. Officer Lane was the arresting officer. Greenhouse who is from Lawrence pleaded ignorance of the law. He was fined $2.

Camille G. Richter of Boston charged with violation of a city ordinance by allowing his auto to remain in the restricted zone of Central street for more than five minutes, was fined $2. Officer Lane said that it was left there for 25 minutes. Richter also pleaded ignorance of the Lowell regulation and the difference between them and those of his home city.

Non-Support Case

Wladek Perlak was charged with non-support of his wife since April 1 and pleaded guilty. He was found guilty and was given his choice of a four months' sentence to the house of correction or of paying $15 per week to the probation officer. He chose the latter, to begin his first payment before Monday.

For Drunkenness

Michael McDermott was fined $10 yesterday for drunkenness and given time to pay but he was arrested again on the same charge last night. An additional fine of $5 was imposed and a warning of a last chance meted out by the judge. He was given until July 3 to pay.

James Burns was charged with drunkenness, but as it is alleged that he had some trouble with his wife the case was continued for one week for investigation.

Frank McCluskey was fined $10 and James Carroll $10 for drunkenness and four drunks were released by the probation officer.

NEW CHAMBER OF

COMMERCE BUREAUS

Two of the most important constructive activities fostered by the Lowell chamber of commerce—the Americanization and traffic bureaus—will begin to function on July 1. It was announced today. At that time Joseph Spano, field secretary of the North American Civic League for Immigrants, will come here to install the bureau of Americanization and at the same time Winfield Whitcomb, now a head clerk for the Boston & Maine railroad, will take over his duties as manager of the new traffic bureau.

Each of these new undertakings will make its headquarters in the present chamber of commerce rooms in Merrimack square and directly will be a part of the chamber.

President W. N. Goodell spoke enthusiastically of both bureaus today in discussing their programs of work. "They constitute two of the most important activities of the chamber," he said, "and I am sure the directors feel that whatever expense is involved will be fully justified in actual results."

"In no manner should it be presumed," he continued, "that the Americanization bureau will in any way interfere with any other activity now being conducted along the same line. The chamber of commerce as well as the civic league desires only to co-operate in every possible way with all organizations working out Americanization programs."

"More and more it is becoming apparent that without education, alien are not coming any nearer to American ideas or ideals and that real Americanization will come only through education. This is the program of the new work the chamber plans to establish."

In speaking of the traffic bureau, President Goodell said that a number of inquiries already have been received regarding the time of establishing it and so much interest has been shown that its duties are sure to be manifold and its assistance much sought after.

DINNER TONIGHT

ties of the organization since its expansion and an address by Dr. George Dugan of New Jersey, will be the high lights of the chamber of commerce dinner to be held tonight, in Memorial hall, at 6.30 o'clock. The meeting also will afford members the opportunity to discuss future activities in forum form.

President W. N. Goodell will preside and the report of work will be read by Secretary-Manager George to the city by the American City bureau and will relish the opportunity of hearing him once again. Reservations for the dinner are not taken up to capacity, although a large crowd is expected.

Music in charge of Andrew McCarthy will be a feature. He will be assisted by William Heller as pianist.

CYPSIES ORDERED TO LEAVE LOWELL

Under a threat of being arrested for larceny, the band of gypsies which has been located on Middlesex street for several weeks past, must leave the city either on or before tomorrow. The police have kept close watch on the members of the groups, who claim to be Cherokee Indians, and on Saturday night, Officers Cooney and Moore, assisted by the policewomen, succeeded in getting evidence of larceny against Officer Conney has visited the booths several times to have his "bumps" read, but the gypsies did not wish to make any definite charge for that service, stating that he should give as much as he liked.

Officer Conney sought the aid of the women, who proposed that they visit the booths Saturday night. Two of the policemen went in to have their fortunes told and were charged $1. Officers Moore and Conney then went in and charged the gypsies $20 each for a reading. Officer Moore, in the absence of that amount and found the dollar bill, the number of which they had marked, still in the fortuneteller's possession.

The intention of the band was to remain here all summer, but upon being charged with larceny they promised to get out of the city if given a chance.

BOY MAY HAVE MET DEATH IN CANAL

It was reported to the police at 11 o'clock last night, that Omeros Antroustopoulos, aged 8 years, of 11

Tremont street, this city, was missing from home since 2 p. m., yesterday afternoon. At the time of leaving his home, the lad was dressed in blue overalls, brown shoes and black straw hat. Someone has told the father that he saw the child in Market street about 5 o'clock, last evening.

The employees of the Mohair Plush company reported to the police, late yesterday afternoon, that some of their number had seen a boy in the canal in the vicinity of Western avenue, struggling in the current and attempting to reach some of the lumber of Davis and Sargent's yard to save himself. Having failed to grab the plank, the boy sunk from sight and was seen no more.

Whether this could have been the eight year old boy the police have not been able to learn. The police cannot attempt to drag for the body in the canal for the current is too strong. The water in the canals will not be drawn off till Saturday.

SUN STORY AIDS IN CAPTURE

Observed That Registration Numbers Corresponded and Notified the Police

Dr. James E. Keown, physician-lawyer and president of the Lynn Biological society, who escaped from the insane hospital at Danvers on Sunday after confinement for ten days for observation, last night was apprehended in Lowell and taken into police custody until officers of the asylum came to take him back to the institution.

His capture was brought about under unique circumstances and was made while he waited for gasoline at the store of J. B. V. Cohn in Mammoth road shortly before 5 p. m. Young men of the neighborhood, sitting on the store steps had just finished reading in The Sun, the story of his escape from the Danvers institution in which the touring car he was believed to have used in his escape was described, including the registration number, Mass. 127,218.

When a large machine drove up to the store and the driver got out to ask for gasoline, one of the young men noticed the number of the registration plate and realizing that it corresponded exactly with the one in the story, the police station was called. Capt. Atkinson sent Sgt. Bigelow and Inspector Walsh to the scene and also notified Patrolman Goldrick in the Pawtucketville section. Dr. Keown offered no resistance when taken in charge. It is said.

The Lynn doctor was held at the police station until officers of the Danvers hospital arrived to take him back. He showed no particular concern about himself, but expressed a desire to have his automobile either disposed of or given to one of his friends. He did not mention anyone who aided in his escape, nor did he say where he spent Sunday night.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward F. Flynn of Essex county stated last evening in an interview at his home in Lynn, that there will be a grand jury investigation to determine who is responsible for the escape of Dr. Keown from the Danvers insane hospital on Sunday afternoon. The escape of the Lynn physician was reported to Judge Christopher T. Callahan of the Essex county superior court yesterday morning and the court immediately conferred with Dist. Atty. S. Howard Donnell and his assistant, Mr. Flynn, with the result that the grand jury investigation was decided upon. An attempt will be made to learn who allowed Keown his liberty on Sunday, after nine days' confinement to his ward; why it was allowed, and who it was that came in the automobile and helped him to get away.

It was learned last night that on Friday there was a meeting of the five doctors who have examined Dr. Keown as to his sanity, as professional alienists, and they reached a unanimous decision that the man is insane. They were to make a report to this effect to Judge Callahan in the Essex superior court yesterday morning.

Writ of Habeas Corpus

BOSTON, June 22.—A writ of habeas corpus for Dr. James E. Keown, who was returned to Danvers Insane asylum today after two days of freedom following his escape on Sunday, was filed in the federal court today by Attorney Morris Katzoff. Counsel contended that the state courts which ordered Dr. Keown committed 42 weeks ago were without jurisdiction because he was a citizen of California and because involving the purchase of an automobile in which Dr. Keown was involved had been transferred to the federal courts before the order of commitment was issued. A hearing was set for next Monday.

Brazil and Argentina will buy 100,000,000 apples from the United States this year, and will take 50,000,000 more if they can be shipped in cold storage.

An illustrated and descriptive catalogue of this estate may be had upon application at the office of the auctioneers—where all inquiries must be made.

EDWARD BURNETT.

DEATHS

LACHANCE—Victor Lachance died last evening at St. John's hospital after a short illness. He is survived by two brothers, Cyrille Lachance of Charleston, and Arthur Lachance of Montreal. He was a member of Lowell Local Order of Moose. The body was removed to his home, 331 Central street, by Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

HEBERT—Raoul Hebert, son of Cyrille and Olive Hebert of 76 Magnolia street, died yesterday at the Lowell General hospital, aged 3 years, 3 months and 5 days. The body was removed to the home of his parents by Undertaker Joseph Albert.

FUNERALS

SAUNDERS—The funeral services of Mrs. Edith Saunders were held yesterday afternoon at the home, 27 Fay st., and were largely attended. Rev. James M. Craig, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were John H. Samuel, Fred W. and Walter B. Cunningham, brothers of the deceased. Burial took place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Craig. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

BERUBI—The funeral of Mrs. Flora Berubi took place yesterday from her home, 497 Moody street. A funeral high mass was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Fr. Turcotte, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Baron, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The bearers were Armand Robillard, Phillip Drouin, Verne Boisvert, R. Fortin and Eliazar W. Burleigh in St. Joseph's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Marlon, O.M.I., read the committal service. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

CAMBAI—The funeral of Maria Cambai took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents, Frank and Rosa (Farinha) Cambai, 134 Gorman street. Owing to the cause of death, burial was private and took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Marlon, O.M.I., read the committal service. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

HEBERT—The funeral of Raoul Hebert took place this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the home of his parents, Cyrille and Olive Hebert, 76 Magnolia street. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

FUNERAL NOTICES

Interment was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, a brief committal service being held in which all of the Masonic fraternity present participated.

The entire plant of the Tremont and Suffolk mills and the Merrimack River Savings bank were closed during the funeral services.

A few minutes apart and at 1.40 o'clock the third and fourth tremors were felt in the south section of Los Angeles and Inglewood. No damage resulted from these. The front walls of the Inglewood hotel, a theatre, an undertaking establishment, a real estate office, three grocery stores, two meat markets, two garages, a poolroom, a drug store, a furniture store and other down town buildings collapsed. The steeple of the Episcopal church, coupled into the street and the buildings occupied by the Citizens Savings bank and the First National bank of Inglewood virtually were destroyed. Several persons in Inglewood were slightly injured by falling plaster and bricks and broken glass, but no serious injuries were reported.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 22.—The workers on McKay and Welt shoes, numbering approximately 1,600, have rejected the proposition submitted by the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' Association, relative to hours, wages, and general working conditions. Recommended by the union are considering the matter at their regular meetings during the present week.

CHANGES AT FRISCO

Visitors to Democratic Convention Will See Few Reminders of Old Days

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Visitors to the democratic national convention will see but few reminders of the old-romantic days of San Francisco, when the red-shirted miners swept down from the gold streaked reaches of the Sierras and threw fistfuls of "pay dirt" on the bars or the store counters for whatever they wished to purchase.

Gone is the roaring "Barbary Coast" and its less picturesque environs, "Bottle" Koenig and "Bottle" Meyers, who used to run noisy cock fighting establishments in what is now the shadow of the hall of justice, have long since passed on and the "Monte Dance Hall," most blaring and blatant of all the coast resorts, is hardly a memory.

Chinatown guides still point out the little restaurant hanging precariously over old Dupont street, where Frank Norris, the author, went occasionally to get a bit of local color. Directly ahead and facing the hall of justice is Portsmouth square, a cove for the city's human drift, where the Vigilantes staged many a stirring scene and the "sand-lotters" under the leadership of fiery Dennis Kearney, discussed the town's political issues.

Most of the old cafes, where much of the city's history was plotted, remain in name only. Gone is Duncan Nichols's, the "Bank Exchange" of former days, where the famous Pisco Punch was served over a mahogany bar that was brought around the Horn. The old Cliff House, where presidents of the United States and other renowned titans used to enjoy the sea food breakfasts, was burned years ago.

On Waverly place still may be seen the quarters of the old Siberia club, stronghold of Yee Mee, "King of Chinatown." Here, before the police "axe parties" became a feature of Chinatown, the chance games of "moon-can," "Shuck-a-luk" and "fan-tan" were played in the midst of a maze of corridors, sliding panels worked by secret springs and exotic odors of opium and Chinese dishes.

The black docks that lined the "front" from China basin to the presidio are gone and stately berths for ocean liners have risen in their place. The dingy bars that stood back of them, where adventurers of all degrees were once dropped, drug-stupefied, through trap-doors and into waiting boats below as part of the great "shanghai" game, all have been swept away. The "shanghai" was the system for recruiting the crews of the "hired-jugglers," the great deep sea hawks, that plied principally between San Francisco and South American ports.

Nob hill, once the home of the city's elite, shows a collection of jagged foundations, much as the great first left it. "South of the Slot," the ancient tenements have given way to smart apartments. In their midst, standing the slowly disintegrating ruins of the "Mission of Sorrow," known to the Spanish as the "Mission de los Dolores," built in 1776 by the Franciscans. It is the best memento of the romantic old San Francisco that endures.

Foundations embraced in the proposal, according to the general agent of the Shoe Workers' Protective Union, Joseph C. Gorette, call for a reduction in wages in all principal operations and the 48 hour in place of the prevailing 45 hour week. The manufacturer have asked for a reply to their proposition by June 25. The various locals of the union are considering the matter at their regular meetings during the present week.

COAL FOR NEW ENGLAND

Plans for New and Quicker Route—Shuttle Train From Mines to Baltimore

BOSTON, June 22.—Plans for a new route by which locomotive coal may be brought to New England from West Virginia much more speedily and in much greater quantities than has been the case for some time were announced yesterday by James J. Storow, New England fuel administrator, who spent the day in conference with railroad men in an effort to perfect the machinery for relieving the coal famine.

The new route is a rapid shuttle movement of coal trains between the West Virginia mines and Baltimore, over the direct route provided by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and the transportation of the coal by water from Baltimore to New England.

Hitherto, coal from West Virginia, whence comes most of the so-called locomotive coal, has been sent to New England by a circuitous all-rail route which has proved a very slow method of getting the badly needed coal to New England.

When Mr. Storow consulted in Washington last week with President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, he promised him that the shuttle movement just described should be inaugurated for the benefit of New England.

This route is very direct, and also provides an almost continuous down grade from the mines to the sea. It is estimated that by this new service the round trip of coal trains between the mines and Baltimore, with all the loading and unloading involved, can be accomplished inside of a week, whereas the all-rail route to New England consumes, upon an average, six weeks for a one-way trip. Moreover, a vastly increased quantity of coal can be brought here in a given time than under the former system.

Mr. Storow spent yesterday morning in consultation with Borden Cove, president of the New England Wholesale Coal Dealers' association, later meeting all the local shippers to discuss perfecting of the machinery for distribution throughout New England.

In the afternoon Mr. Storow was in conference with President James H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine railroad, President Morris McDonald of the Maine Central, President H. M. Bischoe of the Boston & Albany, Vice President C. L. Bardo of the New Haven and the purchasing agents of each of these roads.

The railroad men agreed to pool their interests in purchasing coal and securing its movement to New England. Charles D. Barrows, fuel agent for the Maine Central railroad, has been placed upon Mr. Storow's executive staff for the special purpose of aiding him in looking after railroad fuel, the purchasing of coal and the continuous chartering of vessels to carry it from the southern ports to New England.

Mr. Storow points out that one car on this route can do many times the work it did under the slow and ineffective all-rail route. While most of the locomotive coal used in this section will come by way of Baltimore, Mr. Storow said commercial coal will, for the most part, come by way of Hampton Roads.

The conditions of the New England railroads in coal are extremely low. It was reported at the conference. Two railroads, he said, reported only a 35-hour supply of "effective" coal, while the other roads average only a 10 days' supply.

Foreign capital invested in Germany since the peace treaty was signed is estimated at $3,000,000 marks, of which nearly one-half is American.

At Vocational School

luncheon for six that should cost $1.50, or an average of 25 cents per person. The menu selected for demonstration, and the cost of the articles comprising it was as follows:

Meat and rice mould, $1.44; cucumber salad, $.25; Twin mountain muffins, $.20; strawberry tarts, $1.33.

The students, in preparing the luncheon, one of the members of the class stated, were expected to take into consideration the appetizing and food value qualities of the ingredients as well as the cost. The class then showed how the different articles were prepared explaining each step as the demonstration progressed.

The cooking demonstration was followed by an exhibition of summer millinery. Each member of the class wore a hat that she had made for herself and explained technical points of its construction. The cost of most of the hats had been less than $5 although it was stated that they represented a market value of $15 or $20.

Next came a demonstration in dress-making. With one of the young women serving as a model, measurements were taken, patterns adjusted, cloth cut, the garment tried on and practically finished. A popular coatee design was selected for demonstration.

The home-nursing number was one of the most interesting on the program. While one of the young women, supposedly in her own home, was engaged in reading a book, news came that her mother had been called away and that the maid servants must be absent for awhile.

A young woman friend, who has had training in the essentials of "home nursing," was called in by telephone. As soon as she had arrived, another young woman was brought in, who had been injured in an automobile accident. She was put in bed, and her wound treated and bandaged in a most thorough and scientific manner.

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, made a brief address in which he spoke of the important part played by vocational training in the city's educational system.

"For several years," Mr. Molloy said, "the state has believed in the promotion of vocational training and has made it one of its principal cares. This school is only ten years old and some might say that it is still in its experimental stages. After taking into consideration the work of the school as you have seen it demonstrated, you will say that the experiment has been an assured success. The work of this school looks out on some of the most important things in life.

"Much is said nowadays about facts in education. One is lead to fear that the people will think that serious-minded men in charge of our educational institutions are trying to pass off, on them things in the schools that are not essentials. There is, of course, experimenting in education in the city, state and nation, but it is necessary experimenting."

Miss Margaret L. Robinson, home demonstration agent of the Middlesex county farm bureau, delivered an address on "Efficiency in Cooking and Clothing." She said that she was pleased to be present at graduation exercises where the students showed how to do work that they have been taught to do instead of reading long essays on the subjects that the president, or someone else, might be trusted to look after. She referred to the fact that there are more people and homes in Middlesex county than in the state of Vermont and New Hampshire combined. She told of her work in homes in teaching women who had not had the advantages of vocational training how to do things, in the right way.

Miss Harriet Christien Myhr, class president, presented the class gift to the school, a framed picture of a "Story from Homer." The gift was accepted by the principal, Thomas B. Fisher.

The diplomas were presented to the members of the graduating class by Mayor Thompson at the close of a brief address. He said that he would repeat what he had said at previous graduation exercises of the vocational school, namely, that it was "the finest graduating exercises that it had been his privilege to attend. It is too bad that the class has to graduate in such a building as this." The mayor said that he favored the building of a new school as soon as the city can afford it. He said that the city, state and nation hoped and expected that the young women would some time render service in repayment for the money that has been expended in providing their education.

Principal Fisher announced that one of the school's pupils, Agnes Allen, had not been absent during the past year. At the close of the program the people in the audience were given an opportunity to examine an exhibition of the products of the work of pupils of the school.

The graduates are: Doris Viola Aitken, Laura Helen Boudreau, Bertha Brox, Helen Ruse Constantino, Ethel Lillian Hagan, Hazel Genevieve King, Flora Marlon Marshall, Amy Hester Mosher, Harriet Christien Myhr, Lillian Francis Regan.

To get one pound of diamonds nearly 15,000,000 pounds of rock must be treated.

BY MORRIS ACKERMAN

There's something doing every minute of the time as you paddle down the beautiful rivers of New Brunswick to a salmon trip.

The deer, the moose, the black ducks, the beaver, the porcupine, the snow shoe rabbit and the drumming partridge—all are there to add to the outdoor call of the deep wood with its pleasing noises.

Friends, there is far more to a fishing trip than just fishing. It is interesting from the time you leave the man-made railroads until the regretful moment when you have to pack your tent and come back to them.

Nature's Pets
On my recent salmon fishing trip up the Cains river I counted 10 deer the first two days, dozens of porcupines

This white birch tree shows two separate cuttings made by beavers. The upper cutting was made when snow banks encased the trunk and the lower one after the spring thaw. The beavers haven't finished the job yet, but the tree is leaning badly.

On my recent salmon fishing trip up the Cains river I counted 10 deer the first two days, dozens of porcupines sunning themselves in the trees, two beavers and loads of beaver cuttings and dams.

The streams are banked with patches of trailing-arbutus and native flowers. The tree life of the province is always an interesting study that any guide will pride himself on making simple to his party.

On my way into the salmon fishing district I found this note cut deeply on a sheet of birch-bark:

"Uncle Harry, Got large catch here. Largest salmon I have ever seen was caught by Mr. Fay. Measured 45 inches. Best flies—Durham Ranger, Silver Doctor and Silver Wilkinson. George."

This note was written by George Allen to his Uncle Harry, chief guide to our party, advising us that the first salmon had been caught at the Auburo pool, some 40 miles down the Cains river from Bantalon.

The World's Greatest Doctors agree that one of the best ways to treat a cold or cough is by using just such ingredients as are used in Father John's Medicine—which has had 60 years of success treating colds and coughs and as a tonic food.
